DEDICATED

to the

CLASS OF 1943
FOREWORD

The chief objective at the M BOOK is to familiarize the incoming student with the ways of the totally important four years he is about to enter.

For the student to succeed, he must know what is expected of him. The Miami University student who goes to the University thinking it is merely a relaxation period will be sorely disappointed. He will not learn what is expected of him unless he is taught what is expected of him. The Miami University education is one of the most important parts of your life. It must be taken seriously. If you don't know how to approach the University, you will find it very difficult to get the full value out of it. You must make the most of your time at the University.

Coming back to the M BOOK, the idea is that you will find it helpful in your transition from high school to University. It will give you information about the University and the ways of the University. It will acquaint you with the people, the clubs, the activities, the places to go, and the things to do. It will give you a glimpse of what is expected of you and how you can succeed.

...S. M. K.
THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Whichever else a college experience may be, it is certainly an opportunity. Here you get to choose. Here there are opportunities here to choose the kind of person you want to be. So remember you are going to be some- thing that you may be somewhat confused by the richness of it all.

Institutions like Miami are excited and are interested and are willing to help. There are you. If you are young people will use those opportuni- ties and use them well. If you live up to them you will find yourself a different person in four years. It is not four years, but a period of growth that is contained in your life. The growth in character and personal development in any other period of your life.

Work depends on how you got started. How you can make you grow. How you can change. A word of advice: We have had some students who have been here for four years, and have only held one job during the entire four years in knowledge and growth in character and personal development in any other period of your life.

We hope that you will learn to be a person and a student and a leader, and we hope that you will have the wisdom to know what you can do. You will have the wisdom to know that Miami is a special place.

We shall hope that you will become a part of this community and that Miami will be a part of your life. You will have the wisdom to know that Miami is a special place.
HISTORY OF MIAMI UNIVERSITY

Miami University was the second institution of higher learning established by the State of Ohio. It was founded at Oxford in 1809, and the City of Oxford was created in 1820. The name of the city was later changed to Oxford in honor of the University.

Because of the lack of sufficient funds, Miami was able to start work on an academy only in 1826. Bishop was named president, and the school was related to the dignity of a University. About this time the tide turned, and the school was opened to Indians and other students. This made it possible for those who wished to prepare for teaching in high schools to be admitted in 1911.

In 1829 the Trustees of Miami University voted to make a School of Fine Arts, leading to the degree, Bachelor of Science in Business. The formal opening of the School occurred in the fall of 1829.

The School of Fine Arts was established by action of the Board of Trustees in December, 1829, and incorporated February 1, 1830. The first faculty consisted of five members, with a total salary of $1,600. The Board of Fine Arts was made up of three departments; offering the degree of Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Fine Arts, and Bachelor of Agriculture.

Buildings

Here are given the principal buildings of the university. No doubt you will have them all in mind by the end of The Benedum Hall, and the M. B. Harker office of the ground floor.

Hull Hall, 1—Mason's Chemistry building is named for one of his former presidents. This building has just had its recent addition, which permits the establishment of the newest college chemistry laboratories in the state. In addition it contains a thoroughly modern lecture room seating about 400 students.

The Industrial Education Building—A modern, shop building housing the mechanical drawing, wood and metal work, and automobile instruction departments.

Winema Court—This building when completed will have, seat nearly 4 million dollars. The first and was opened March 24, 1927. It houses the registration office, the registrar's office, the secretaries of the professors and director of Finance, Education, Business, Faculty, and Freshman offices, and is used for troops housing and 100 beds, and a field house.

Mason Publications, THE STUDENT
of the MIAMI Y. M. C. A. are located in the basement of the Shriver Hall. The football team visited the University of Chicago and defeated the University of Illinois.

The Okefenokee Swamp is located in southern Georgia and Florida, and is inhabited by alligators and other reptiles.

The University of Miami has a beautiful campus and is located near the ocean, providing a scenic view and a relaxed atmosphere for students.

The library, located in the basement of the Shriver Hall, contains over 100,000 volumes and is open from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Friday and Saturday. The hours are subject to change, so it's best to check the library hours online or call for more information.

The library also offers a large collection of online resources, including databases, journals, and e-books, which are accessible to students with a valid library card.

The University of Miami offers a wide range of academic programs, including business, education, health sciences, law, arts, and humanities.

The campus is located near Miami Beach, offering students easy access to the beach and the vibrant city life.

The University of Miami is home to a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, who come from all over the world, bringing a rich variety of cultures and perspectives to the campus.

The University of Miami is dedicated to providing a high-quality education and fostering a community of learning and growth.
The doctors and nurses are always on attendance at the Hospital and medical officer is taken care of at any time of the day or night. In the emergency cases are expected to arrive the emergency room or the most suitable ward. The Hospital is equipped with state-of-the-art medical equipment and is financially independent of the University and the State.

Work is almost completed on the first floor, which will greatly improve the accommodation and comfort of the Hospital.

UNIVERSITY RULES

Any student who engages in unsportsmanlike conduct or is guilty of any act without the permission of the President shall be subject to the same penalties as those who engage in unsportsmanlike conduct. Students must obtain new permission for each social function. Violation of this rule will be followed by expulsion.

This rule which protects the possession of any act in Oxford involving the social license to be at the events in Oxford. In fact, not only the faculty but also a large part of the student body consider it a very desirable regulation.

To the first place on men is not necessary for transportation while they are so great that they cannot be walked comfortably in ten minutes, while the average distance is about three blocks. In such a large city, there will be no fewer than two trains of a better than a help.

But it is evident, that the possession of an auto usually has a disturbing influence in the life of the individual. In large cities, it is difficult to feel well with the "crowd," likely to be reflected in a lowered standard of social activity.

Smoking

Smoking in any University building other than in the designated smoking areas is prohibited. Many of our buildings are ventilated to provide a smoke-free environment. It is recommended that smoking should be restricted to designated areas.

Compliance and Cooperation

Matters of conduct are largely in the hands of the cooperative government associations, which have been established to maintain liaison with the University. Students, who engage in illegal or unsportsmanlike conduct, shall be subject to the disciplinary boards or by the faculty. All social events must have the approval of the Dean of Women or social chairman.
Assembly

At the present time the rule regarding assembly requires every student, regarding his scholastic standing to attend assembly (two a month) of the regular student assembly, either the weekly sections in English, or the weekly sections in any other course in which the student is credited. In the event that there should be only four assemblies scheduled, the assembly requirement for the semester is satisfied. The attendance of assembly is checked and reported just as in classes. Failure to attend the required number of assemblies each semister will result in the deduction of the total hours required for graduation.

Attendance

Every student is expected to attend all classes. It is for their own good and the benefit of their fellow students.

1. Whenever a student is specifically reported for being absent from class to an instructor, he is absent from class to that instructor and he will be recorded as such. If the instructor or the student feels that illness or other circumstances prevent attendance, this must be reported to the instructor.

2. Absences caused by authorized leave from sports or athletic duties, are excused. In certain cases, the department head in charge of the class
may be excused.

3. Absences caused by illness of the student or any member of the family of the student, or by acdemic or personal reasons beyond the control of the student, and absences for any other reason than those listed herein, are cancelled only when recommended by the advisor and approved by the Advisory Committee.

4. When the unexcused absence from any course of a student who is in his first semester of residence at Miami, whether freshman or upper-classman, is five or more hours, the instructor will notify the Dean of Students whose average for the preceding sem-ter was below 2.5, exceed the number of semester hours' credit allowed for that course, each student shall be dropped from the course with a grade of F.

5. When the unexcused absences from any course of a student whose average at Miami is 2.5 or above at the semester he has exceeded the number of credit hours in the course for the semester, such student shall be dropped from the course with a grade of F.

6. Retention can be secured
only upon recommendation of the instructor and approval of the student.
The decision to retain or to permit
the rule shall be made without consideration of the student's behavior.

7. Retention can be secured
only upon recommendation of the instructor and approval of the student.
The decision to retain or to permit
the rule shall be made without
consideration of the student's
behavior.

8. Any student who makes an average of 2.5 or better in any semester at Miami shall not be considered to have violated rule 5 during the following semester, except that the committee of advisee may withdraw this privilege
from any student who in their judgment is failing in their studies.
3. Absences incurred the full day presenting and the day following a holiday shall be recorded in the operation of these regulations, however, the administrative body may excuse absences when more than one occurs in the same course unless the holiday intervenes.
4. Failure to keep appointments University officials may be regarded as unexcused absences accumulating at the rate of one per day beginning with the day of the appointment.
THE STUDENT-FACULTY COUNCIL.
J. B. Smith, Chairman
Miami has a student government of which it is properly proud. The student body is directed by this group consisting of two representatives from the male students and six women students who are chosen at the general student election to represent the students on the faculty. They are elected according to the same regulations as the faculty members.
We quote from their constitution:
"The duties and powers of the Council shall be to study and discuss campus problems in conjunction with the faculty and to encourage the students and faculty to cooperate with corporations in the conduct of their progress. We feel that we can determine the future of our faculty and contribute to the development of student thought."
An action for the year:
Up to last year, political parties carried on extensive campaigns for their candidates. How-never, this year, after pre-election organization and internal state selection,
the Representative party withdrew from the election, and the Reform party offered for the New Representative party
although the formality of an election was gone through. Perhaps the year 1929 will see a revival of the old method of running a campaign by several political parties.

DEAN HAMILTON'S MESSAGE

To Incoming Miami Women:

If there were some magic words by means of which we could reduce you as you enter college with the ability to see exactly what is most worthwhile and the best advice that all the ancients could do in the way of making the life for you, we would give them to you in this first message to you. However, if that could be done, freshmen would not be freshmen any longer. Life does not begin until such time as you have begun to live. None the less, none of us can begin unless we have some idea of where we are going. None of us can begin to live his own life unless he knows what is his particular purpose of living.

A college campus is in general a happy place. Probably nowhere else is all your life will you be associated with so many young men and women of the same age and interests. College life holds in store for them and we wonder how to get ready for such an event. We hope, too, that you may not be aware to making sense out of it, but you will go far in understanding those things which you have to learn. We welcome you to all the fellowship of this campus, its good times and its hard work. May your days here be such as to bring you a sense of satisfaction with your life and the opportunity to seek a finer joyfulness throughout the rest of your life.

THE WOMEN'S LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL
Women members of the Student-Faculty council and members of the Women's Consultative Board form the legislative body of the University. The Council is elected at the beginning of each year and is charged with the responsibility of maintaining high standards of intellectual life and is required to seek and promote the interests and welfare of students and faculty. The Council meets weekly and has the power to make rules and regulations for the proper governing of the University. Its members have agreed upon a set of regulations for the protection of their interests.

REGULATIONS FOR MIAMI WOMEN
1893-98
The following standards of behavior, as set by the Women's Legislative Council, are to be observed by all students and faculty of the University. The Council reserves the right to revise these regulations at any time during the academic year or after a vacation.

House Life
Quiet— Even study hours and between 12:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Closing Time—On which no light is permitted.

On Friday night, opportunities may occur for social events in the form of dances or similar activities. These events should be held between the usual hours, but must not interfere with the responsibilities of the students attending the University in Oxford. On Saturday night the closing hour is eleven-thirty o'clock for those who are attending dances. Out-of-town trips may not be included in the program of events unless authorized by the President of the University.

In all instances, students are expected to abide by the rules of the residence halls. Dress, including women's evening dress, should be appropriate for the event. Out-of-town guests should be responsible for their own management. It is inadvisable to reserve guests for a period longer than two days in residence.

Walking Out—All students sign out for any absence from hall or college on the evening of or for any absence from town during the week or the evening.

Dress Code
A major subject of these regulations is the prohibition of certain types of attire. Students have proven that a student's moral status may become a hazard to their health and the physical appearance of their clothing. It is the responsibility of students to maintain a healthy and attractive appearance. It is recommended that all students maintain a neat and well-groomed appearance.

In Oxford, the closing hour is eleven-thirty o'clock for those who are attending dances. Out-of-town trips may not be included in the program of events unless authorized by the President of the University. In all instances, students are expected to abide by the rules of the residence halls. Dress, including women's evening dress, should be appropriate for the event. appreciate to her special needs.

Freshmen—Freshman, especially, for the purpose of establishing themselves sociability in study college work, are advised to make up as independently their social plans in their free hours. A freshman who is made C average or below may increase her social fines if she confines her time to work.

Dues.—It is a rule of the University that students may not maintain roommates during their residence in college. However, special permits are granted in the first year for social reasons for business purposes. The only social use of a student car is obtained by paying the normal per diem charge. Any student, who rents a car in the name of the University for a special purpose, any automobile owner, who drives the special permision from the heads of the halls and colleges.

Overnight Absences—Permit is re- newed for any overnight absence from the student’s official residence. If the visit is made in Oxford to one of the halls or regularly recognized colleges, a formal request must be made in writing to the dean of the college for the visit to be entered with the head of the hall.

If the visit is made away from Ox- ford, the student’s departure must be accompanied by a letter from parents specifying the place and the expected time of return. If a student is late to be in- cluded in the trip, the time must be specified to the parent’s permission.

Smoking—Miami women are urged not to smoke, but there is no general Uni- versity rule which prohibits them from doing so. Smoking is not permitted in any University-owned building or on any University-owned property. It is restricted to smoking rooms provided in the men’s dormitories.

Hunting—“Hunting” rides to and from Oxford is forbidden.

Chaperones—Approved chaperones are required for all excursions, dinners, or any trip taken in connection with the University or residence. This rule ap- plies to the basic person, and all the groups. In a fraternity house where a sorority is permanently resident, the sorority girls are the approved chaperone. Their open house must be adhered to rigidly.

Dormitory College—Remember that the dormitories of Oxford College are the only buildings that are used for 11:00 p.m., and should not be used by Miami students for the hours of residence.

Dormitories are not to ac- cept in the interior of athletic or including columns or in a place especially set up for the athletics.

Dormitories are closed and by 10:00 p.m. except when other hours have been arranged with the social director of the heads of halls.

Excerpts From University Catalogue, 1929-30:

“Drinking intercollegiate beverages is for- bidden by the sport authorities.

Students whose conduct is open to action are subject to suspension by the respective disciplinary boards of the faculty.
A student whose general attitude is unsatisfactory or whose influence in class is detrimental may be requested to withdraw from the college. A student may be denied readmission to college at the end of any term.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Women's League, a national organization, is comprised of the president of Miami University, the president of the women's league, and the president-elect of the women's league. The purpose of the organization is to encourage and facilitate the development of leadership among women and to stimulate a variety of individual, social, and cultural activities.

For the year 1959-60, Margaret Grinnell is president, and Helen Zellman is president-elect. The league has planned a variety of activities for the academic year, including meetings with the women's league of Miami University.

MORRIS BOARD OF STUDENTS

Among the activities of the Morris Board are: (a) the encouragement of the women's league, (b) the promotion of individual, social, and cultural activities, and (c) the provision of assistance to students in their studies.

The system was developed to provide students with opportunities to participate in activities that are compatible with their academic programs. The system is designed to ensure that students have the opportunity to participate in activities that are consistent with their academic goals.

In selecting a sorority, ask yourself the following questions: Can I afford a sorority? Is this sorority the one with whom I'd like to be associated for life? Are the social groups well enough to make a decision now?

The student body on the Idaho campus has a tradition that is hard to find, that which is chiefly concerned with the growth of person, making it possible for women to have some means of ex- change and development in the commun- ity in the light of the highest values we know and sound, service to the Idaho campus, the high school program, employment service, counseling and general help with the use of library, use of telephone, and seeking needed guidance for emergency.

Membership in the TWA is open to all those who participate in some phase or the Association's program. There are various committees from which you may choose. During the first week of October, a number of meetings are held to give you an opportunity to talk over and enroll in the organization.

Our officers and leaders in Bethesda had no trouble in getting the student body to consider any time during the day, and the membership list was full as a result of these meetings. During your open moments you can work to improve and make sure of the many dignitaries and books that are on our study shelves, but we also look forward to use the telephone.

COMMITTEES

Each committee meets once every two weeks and submits a report to the executive body of the Association. Any one interested in working in the committees may attend any meetings of the committee.

The program of the TWA is developed through the following committees:

Finance: In charge of money for the budget; membership; and to keep the membership record current and up-to-date.

Membership: In charge of any matters affecting the membership and in charge of any matters affecting the membership record current and up-to-date.

Social Service: In charge of any matters affecting the social service and in charge of any matters affecting the social service record current and up-to-date.

A THOUGHT FOR MEN

The FOREWORD of this edition has found it. Thought much the same as we did on the subject. Here we present an expanded version of the same thought.

The greatest mistake upon entering college is to believe that college will automatically improve your life. This brings a whole host of problems, of which the most evident is that parental relationship and another

Christ. The college itself is the foundation of daily thought, in the common sense of the word, a question, fact, or dedication to college and a indispensable elaboration and happy outcome.

It is a new world that the student crosses over into or any other line of activity, an individual who does not have ambitions to make a career. For he is after that a person who shall bear the requirements and the duties of the college. The individual who will not work on the course, in not permitting dis-vations to alter, your determination to achieve the goals you have set for yourself. Let us carry on before entering college to assure that we get what we set for and find in college to attract afford yourself to new surroundings that will alter your new opportunity. Through this college, you can make life better

during your life.

GREEK LETTER SOCIETIES

From her hidden Miami has given birth to the American University's first national fraternity, of which any student of Miami may be proud. From these fine universities, all countries have come. We wonder that Miami is known as the "mother of fraternities.

There are four, eleven fraternities of Miami University, all of which have strong Greek-letter societies and are building their and each

determining its own membership rules. But, dearer nothing till the second semester, the freshmen and the sophomores

will come around and help them. Each of the four fraternities will meet up each other, "Rush Week," the third week of the second semester, affords a minute and brief opportunity to consider the qualities of the men to be freshmen and fraternity men. If the fraternity man desires a rush, they extend to him a bid. Before accepting the bid, the rush should feel free to find whether it is in harmony with his reputation, the aims and the history of the fraternity. A trial member on a fraternity line should be the person of the college. For they are the heart of the college and the greater part of his college life. If the freshmen is satisfied with the organization of her fraternity, she may sample from the chapter a pledge jacket which signifies her intention to join.

Admission to membership is a probationary period in which the new member makes adjustments to match the rules and regulations of the organization. A pledge's membership agreement may be dissolved at the will of either party. The president and executive secretaries of the fraternities will give information on the national organization of a fraternity.

The new hall in Hart- man's east tower is nearing completion. All freshmen of the student body in all houses of the campus are asked to visit the tower and to send a message of their friends, who were visiting away, to Miami.

ON ACTIVITIES

Study generally only one side of College life but to understand the multi-purposes for which damaging or wasted. Activities and desires offer an exciting program of free leisure to take part in. It is a mistake to think of activities as being the cause for going into extra-curriculars at Miami. In the first place, there is voluntary recreation to be gained. Secondly, it is not true that under certain situations of the activities available.

Work, Publications, Decoration, Music, and other activities in a wide field interesting field. Participation involves not compulsory nor is it recommended by the University for the student who has little time for such activities. When some who feel for deeply involved.

"Oldest College Newspaper in the United States"! That is the distinction of our well-known college publication, a honor which we are very proud to bear. This year you will see the first issue of the Recensio. This paper is given "heads" to cover, and is published weekly. It is an important part of the college life and is an excellent way to keep up with the happenings of our campus. There are approximately five issues each semester, and the staff is selected by the University Publications Board.

But for the time being, let us introduce our editor, Mr. B. White, and the other members of the staff.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The University Choir Club
The Musical Union

These musical organizations offer opportunities for membership to men and women in the University who can qualify, after consulting with the directors. They offer direct opportunities for becoming involved in music, and are oriented to the social functions of campus life. The University Choir Club is under the direction of Dr. Robert DeLisle. The Musical Union is committed to performing and is directed by Mr. William Besse.

The University Orchestra

Membership in the University Orchestra is open to all students who can qualify, after consulting with the conductors. Students who have the wealth here are unusual opportunities for musical and social opportunity. It is essential that while the pleasure of participation is important, the value of thorough and careful study of a large amount of orchestral literature cannot be fully estimated by the serious student.

The University Band

Created by the University Band under the direction of A. D. Lefkowitz, assistant professor of music, the Band is comprised of performers on all levels and is oriented to the social functions of campus life. It is under the direction of George Betts and is comprised of students who are interested in music. The Band performs at the Auditorium and has several concerts throughout the year in which students and faculty participate. It is open to all students who qualify, after consulting with the directors.

The Seabreeze Bureau

The Seabreeze Bureau is no longer a bureau of Miami. Several years ago accounts of this public service organization for the distribution of public information were taken over.
It is followed after the publication of the monthly account, and its members are asked to arrange before organizing High school volunteers to distribute.
Writing, and Safety Clubs. Under the leadership of the bureau, speakers are now being selected to go to any organiizations for the purpose of explaining the work of the institution to its value
to both the students and the outside organizations.

The experiences which are gained is invaluable and quite a much more practical nature than ordinary debate, which was the former speaking practice at Miami. The speeches are made in subclasses who practice daily in their field of work. The Freshman Players and the students in the Speech Department were selected readings. Dramatic groups prefer the appropriate plays at Christmas and spring. They do this to contribute to their own causes to conduct public forums.

The Freshmen in Drama

The Freshmen in Drama was establISHED in 1933 by the Department of Speech. Today the department is under the supervision of Dr.
Charles Henry Flack, the director of the Speech Department. A first stimu-ulating contest is held from which three members are selected to represent Section hall. The winners are awarded a cash prize of $2, and second $1.

A STORY IN PICTURES

A panorama coin-section of Miami's athletic program will give you an idea of the interest which athletics command at Miami University.

Miami's band provides a spectacle matching style, in tone to a symphony orchestra, as shown by the picture on the upper left-hand corner. Let us follow the story of the various events which form the Miami student and alumni social calendar with music and color which bring the true Miami appeal.

In picture from Edward Oettel, a member of Miami's choral society which number up to 50 are present on a weekly basis.

Wilford Bell, demonstrates the forms that helped carry Miami to self-championship in the Big Ten this past spring season.

A good huddle of boosters in weight training. Arnold Fechter makes it look easy.

Miami's cross-country team, led by Art build, H. and Art Packard, M. enjoyed an undisciplined season. Big news were bad, including Gilb's and A. cases.

Pondalson, a super star through the rest of an official's season and three informally aided Miami's season in the Big Ten conference.

Miami's success is due to the efforts of all officials, plus the weight of some informally aided Miami's season in the Big Ten conference.

The next issue of the next issue is to be a part of the many aspects of the Miami University athletic program to which all freshmen are entitled.

MIA J SPORTSMEN'S CREED

"Sportsmanship is a primitive virtue. It means that you shall play fair; that you shall not lead by the nose. If the other party arises against you, but that you shall extend courtesy to him in a friendly way, and come back to try again on another day, when you shall have the better of him. No, never try to Spring yourself for your opponent by calling your opponents names or by any other means to get a greater advantage from them, that you shall treat the visits of the other party to your town and give them such a cordial reception that there is an advantage."

We want it said that Miami students are rugged in appearance, well groomed, clean cut, and of high moral habits. All Miami men and women are above reproach. We regard our school as a part of a great American institution, and our alumni as part of that spiritual group. The handshaking of Miami men and women is friendly, warm, cordial, and hearty. The Miami man will not start a fight, but he will stand up for himself and his school. All Miami men and women will be true sport to the last. Miami, your school, and your alma mater, are yours for the upholding. The Miami man is not a class-ring man. The Miami man adores the friendly rivalry on the field and in the gym, but he is a true sportsman and is not a class ring man. The Miami man knows that there is a great American spirit in Miami. The Miami man is not a class ring man. The Miami man group prides among Miami men and women, and is the reason for the success of the Miami school. The Miami man is a true sportsman, a true American, and a true human being. The Miami man is true sportsman and is not a class ring man. The Miami man is a true sportsman and is not a class ring man.
FOOTBALL

Head football coach Frank Wilcox did a fine job of guiding the Redskin unit to a 4-2-2 record in the Big Ten Conference in 1969. The team outscored its opponents, 146-89.

The Ohio State Buckeyes were the only team in the Big Ten to defeat the Redskin unit in 1969. The Buckeyes won the contest, 41-13, in Columbus.

The most noteworthy event of the year, though, was the homecoming game against the Indiana Hoosiers. The Redskin unit won the contest, 56-21, in front of a crowd of 21,522 fans.

Outstanding players on the Redskin unit included Jimmy Johnson, Bob Oehmke, and Jack Youngblood. The Redskin unit was coached by Frank Wilcox.
The offensive for 34 yards and a touch-down Quarterback Bergan also demonstrated his "spark plug" ability at various times. Men were determined to make a comeback on the foyers in Cleveland to compensate for the game at Columbia and the rest of the season. The offense was led by John Williams, a fullback and in the second quarter. Outstanding players on the board were takeout and John, with good time and distance, and a effective running back. Efron, Emerson, and Allen, corner. The touchdown was off 12th 12n.

BASKETBALL

Coached by their new coach William Ferguson, this team turned in a first rate showing at the annual Ohio Valley meet in Youngstown. They advanced their recent efforts by making an army of 50-35 against Indiana by a 54-40 margin. Then the squad journeyed to Cuba where they were defeated, scored over 70 points in a 49-35 memory. The efforts of Ferguson and Rug were marked by the回家en of the home court and improvement week and in a effort to change their luck the squad starred by playing in the nation's hall with George G. Cole and Baldwin.

The Miami baseball team, coached by Frank Brotto, achieved a very satisfying season, winning their record of 20 games and placing first in the conference Championship.

In the Western conference, the Redbirds won eight of their 10 games outside of the confere-ce. In the Western conference, the Western State University, the University of Miami, and the University of Florida, won six of their 10 games each.

In addition to the Miami baseball team, the Miami University baseball team also played in a tournament. The tournament was named the Miami University Baseball Tournament. The tournament was held on the campus of Miami University.

The University's alumni were won by breaking the record of a score of 80 L. S. second place won by Western Michigan, and by their score of 86 L. This marked Western Michigan's initial victory over Notre Dame. Michigan University scored 84, securing fourth place while the University of Dayton was last on the list. The first place was won by the University of Notre Dame, with a score of 80 L. This victory was a partial fulfillment of the University's expectations. The team's efforts were praised by the alumni, who expressed great pride in the University's performance. The University's president, Dr. John Smith, delivered a speech celebrating the team's achievement and expressing his gratitude to the alumni for their support. The University's future plans were also discussed, with a focus on expanding the institution's facilities and programs. The students, parents, and alumni gathered to celebrate the victory, and the atmosphere was electric with excitement and pride. The University's spirit was at an all-time high, and the team's success was celebrated throughout the region. The University's athletic department was praised for its dedication and hard work, and the students were encouraged to continue their efforts and strive for even greater achievements in the future. The University's alumni were proud of their team and looked forward to their future victories.
CROSS-COUNTRY

Led by ace punter Art Hall, Miami's Redbirds cross-country team negotiated squad after squad to notch an undefeated season of eight meets at Ohio Conference level. The team received the Redbird Shield award for the first time since 1951.

Miami won the Ohio Conference track meet last year giving the Redbirds a total of five conference championships.

Miami placed fifth in the Blue Indoor Relays.

Miami shared in the Drake Relays.

TENNIS

Miami's Redbirds matron brought home the highly coveted Birders' conference trophies this year to Creighton University.

In the final match of the Birders' tourney on October 26, the Ohio Conference Champions, with 9-2 victory, emerged as the Birders' triumphant champions.

DODGEBALL

Miami's Redbird's dodgeball team took a shot at their opponents, the Ohio University, and scored the biggest upset of the season, winning 14-0.

The game began with Miami leading 6-0, but the game did not stop there. The Redbirds continued their dominance, scoring 8 points in the second half.

Miami's victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication throughout the season.

This year's team is one of the finest athletes in the history of golf at Miami; they won eight matches and lost but three. On the basis of their performance this season, Miami could be considered for first place in the state intercollegiate league. Next season's competition should find Miami again on the winning side, for the boys have been keeping their programs well toward another fine season.

MIAMI ATHLETICS
On May 26 and 27, the Burke Cup Intercollegiate Athletic Conference met at Miami for the last track meet to be held under the auspices of the Burke Cup Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Conference was established in 1926 with a number of Ohio institutions including Miami University, Cornell, and Columbia. These schools along with Western Reserve, and Denison, have been members of the Conference since its inception. Miami always has been a member of the Conference. The Conference met May 26th, went north to Berea May 27th, and returned in time to hold the last track meet. The Conference met again May 28th, and all the schools were represented. Miami was the only school not to have its own track meet. Miami was the only school to lose all its meets, but the Conference was a success. INTRAMURAL Rights

An integral part of any student's collegiate experience should be a large and diversified intramural program. Under the direction of T. W. W. Vannah, intramural sports are being conducted with great success. The main goal of intramural athletics has been built up waste to wide absorption and well organized. It plays second Friday to the athletic programs. The season for this group of students' athletics began in March and will continue through June. The program includes basketball, volleyball, tennis, golf, and a number of other activities. The winners of the individual events are awarded engraved trophies for the best performance in their respective activities.

ON "SOCIAL SEALTS"

This section might have been called "Missed Opportunities" because it will undoubtedly contain a wide variety of untapped forms before we are through. It might also be called "Social Sealts", as well, however, that we couldn't locale something by referring to a common heading that describes them. From two, we bemoan the simple facts that we must write this section of purely personal glitz. All three parts of this chapter may seem to be simple ideas that anyone of moderate ability would be able to work out. But as a whole, the effort to find out, such a condition must result from material or preparation. The problem of getting the freshman class, don't quite yield, nor do the opportunities. The same for those in the upper college, as well. The material that we find on the material we've found in this chapter, is not sufficient, nor is it sufficient to produce the independent status which may be involved. The material is not sufficient, nor is it sufficient to produce the independent status which may be involved. You will never fully realize how fortunate you are in being at a school where most of the students live on or very near the campus. This is also a factor in helping to improve the running of the society. Unfortunately, it is a factor, and the operating of the society is thus far above the expectations of most Greek persons, and costs are surely lower. Whatever those fees be, the advantages enjoyed by the fraternity may be why you can learn something.

There are certain advantages to be had by a fraternity, but many of the points that make up the advantages may vary from school to school. The greatest advantage for the material, is its membership potential. There are many different methods of handling the membership potential. Through this chapter, we have been trying to show how to use the membership potential to make the independent status of the fraternity as close to it as possible. And we have been trying to make the independent status of the fraternity as close to it as possible. At Miami, it is possible that the "fraternity" begins as soon as the student enters the fraternity and not recognized by any factor mentioned in this chapter. You see, sir, and play with your own
The question of motions while of independence to get entering the society must be the first thing. All alegations and motions are so magnified as to make the freedom of speech in society difficult. If there are some difficult motions or tensions in the society, it is important to avoid them and focus on the main goal of independence.

The motion of motions must never be started every Wednesday night in Harrison yard. The motion of motions is not important as it is, and it is best to avoid it altogether.

It is possible to have just as many friends and to enjoy college just as much whether to be a member of the band or not. The point of being in the band is not to make yourself popular, but to enjoy the music and the camaraderie.

John B. H. Allen, Head of Society, is the head of an organization that promotes independence and freedom of speech. His goal is to avoid any motions or tensions in the society and to focus on the main goal of independence.

the goals that have been set for the Membership is open to all independent

SOCIAL DATES
This year's design for being called
"college" will be for most of you a promising mixture of work and play.
Many will over-emphasize work—more perhaps who will over-emphasize play.
Both need to be balanced. If you find that your work is too heavy,
reach the respite, but the most use of it all will be those who use the academic balanced life with the perfect mixture of study and fun.

MIAMI UNIVERSITY
113
Miami social life, though it has its formalities, is basically the same as social life in the rest of the world.

The students come from every section of the country and are fundamentally the same people. If you have known them before, you will know them here. If you have not known them before, you will know them now, as they are the same people you knew before, plus a few others who are here by the grace of God.

The social life of any college campus is definitely an important part in the college life. If you will find a campus where you will not find social life, you will find a poor campus. This social life is for all students, for all social amenities and for all social advantages. The students are the best of this social life and the best of this world. They enjoy it and they are willing to share it with others.

Mrs. Walker tells us that the social life of the college is in the office of the social director, Rev. Thomas, through Rev. Mr. Walker, Rev. Mr. Richardson, Rev. Mr. Johnson. All of these social activities and amenities can be enjoyed by taking part in the social life of the college.

WHAT TO BRING
When you start packing up to come to Miami the following suggestions might be of some value in selecting and reports on material,

In the men’s rooms, sheets, pillows,
and other articles, are furnished by the
the men themselves.

At the beginning of the year the discs the expected number of the rooms are fur-ished by the men themselves.
Shorts, pillows, and pillow-cases are provided in the women's baths under conditions mentioned above. Women are also expected to take care of their own clothes.

Bank accounts can be opened at either one of the two banks at Oxford or you can draw directly from home. The Oxford Bank usually requires that students open an account at the beginning of the term.

Costs are not great, and you can pay for your room, board, and other expenses in one lump sum. Students are also expected to earn money by doing odd jobs or by working in the library.

Costs of books will generally run up to about one hundred twenty dollars, depending on courses and curricula other factors.

Above all, the University is an institution of learning. Determine not to lose the high hopes and conditions with which you have come here, but with an abiding curiosity to find out what it is all about, and the determination to stick it out until it becomes more and more familiar. Do not become discouraged, for the greatest fear of your life is that in possible in nature and learning.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

Women: Many women are so afraid they will underestimate, but they do not learn until the end of the first year, which is still a lot. continued to the students' greatest advantage. During the four-week period of training, they are divided into sections of four to five trainees, according to the manner and degree of their experience.
Each group is under the direction of a faculty leader, a faculty assistant, and a student leader. In addition, one is a member of one of the Christian Association Clubs.

The course outlined for the week is based on three quick films designed to help the group split itself over the course of the program and plan the sections of the morning, outdoor, and physical experiences. Throughout, the emphasis is on encouraging and stimulating the group to work together and to develop self-reliance.

OXFORD
Oxford is the town of about 3,500 people. The University is located in the southeast quarter of the town proper.

The main street is covered by a double line of trees, with sidewalks on either side. The chief thoroughfares are High Street and College Street, along which most business places are to be found.

High Street begins at the automobile station and runs west to the Ohio River, which forms the north boundary of the town. It continues westward to Columbus, the capital of the state, and 130 miles from Columbus, U. S. highway 27 and State 25 pass through Oxford.

THE MAMMOTH

Several years ago the members of the Student Body were apprised with most their formal reading of a most surprising letter. The first of the year's student groups was about to be organized, and the student body

was apprised with the news that a new group, The Mammoth, would be formed. The Mammoth was not a student group but rather a charity organization. Each

Charity

Association

and charitable institution

made a separate campaign each fall.

These campaigns were not only successful, but also resulted in the success of many others also.

In 1920 it was decided to unite these under a single system. A budget which allotted a specific sum to each organization was established. This was followed by activities and contests. Early in the fall a drive was put on to finance this project. The

The Y uses this money to finance the freshman orientation program and the recreation program throughout the year. Last year, $2,000 was sent to the Chaplaincies of Y.M.C.A. branches to assist them in supporting the foreign students in this country and to help them with other projects for several years. The Y has recently established an exchange scholarship program.

FRESHMAN TIPS

The purpose of these informal hints of advice is to remind you the personal responsibilities you have, to help you in the hope that it will aid you in avoiding trouble and even conflict.

Don't let your college experience be soured. Here are sound hints among students' work, participation in outside activities and social life. Always keep your own head. If you're the kind to like life on campus, then the best advice is to follow your own interests and making your own decisions. Avoid the social affairs, etc. Preparing your work is the most important. On to success, and don't forget the letdowns. Get into the spirit of the times, and have fun. which you live. If a copy of the rules is not supplied you, find out from someone in authority.

To handle properly your personal expenditures, use a budget. Know where every dime goes. The Student Expense Report is available at the registrar's office. If you have a part-time job, the Student Service Office will be glad to give you a budgeting sheet. It is a good idea to write down everything you spend for the week or month.

At least one meeting per semester is held each fall, usually before the fall term begins, to inform the freshmen of the various opportunities in the building and the observed program. Each class attempts to outline further classes in the event.

In the fall of your freshman year, the men of the class make plans for the next year. The group sets about the goal of the next few years of your life, to get organized quickly.

Promoting week was thrived for your benefit. The idea of establishing a benefit committee to aid in the organization of the committee. There will be valuable information given in each class which you cannot afford to lose which you cannot afford to lose.

Budget your time! is a phrase that you will hear from your advisor and the other students. Once you have acquired this skill, you are far, far on the road to getting your work done efficiently. You will find that your classes are scheduled and sticking to it will have more time for both study and play.

Professors are interested in their students. They take their interests in your development very seriously. They want you to help or advice. You will find them "regular fellows".

ARTISTS COURSE

Two years ago a new educational plan was adopted after a unanimous vote of the student body. One dollar a semester is not made from each student's activity fees, and the surplus is used for the purchase of art supplies and the support of the art department. The course has been very well accepted by the student body and groups are formed out of one of the student groups. A common opportunity is our campus.

presenting his suspension. Such credit must be withdrawn by examination taken in a course approved by the faculty committee of advisors.
A student who has twice been drop-pa for low scholarship will not be re-admitted to the university.
A student must earn an average of 1.50 on the work of the freshman year in order to return as a sophomore. A student may return as a junior with an average of 1.50 in order to return the following year.
A student who is dropped for scholastic reasons may be given the privilege of returning either as a sophomore or as a junior. This privilege is granted vided: (a) that his average for the year is at least 1.50 if he is a freshman,
or 1.50 if he is an upperclassman; (b)
that in the second semester he has not failed a course in the first semester of freshmen, or 1.50 average for uperclassmen. To prevent the student who abuses the benefit of this privilege and earns fewer than 18 hours of credit in either summer session. In courses which he has not previously taken, with a grade point average of 1.50 in the second semester of freshman year or 1.50 in each of his courses in the fall. The fact that he has once been dropped for scholarship, however,
remains on his record and a second suspension is permanent.

These rules were in force during the year 1933-1938, and are subject to change.

TO THE LADIES OF '33

In the introduction to "Social Graces" one often apprehend for taking time to help you find it. However, here's a bit of reading that is not too bad at the last minute. It is a collection of a few bits of thought for the "Social" woman and here's a few words for the "Social" man.

A socially acceptable man is proud to have his house and to have you know the housemother—it will make him feel like a more important and manly one.

Where you are a guest at a house, your chances of being accepted by the people who are, are not likely to improve by your hampering and unimportance. A fair reception requires that you be given the facts of the situation. Here's a bit of reading that is not too bad at the last minute. It is a collection of a few bits of thought for the "Social" woman and here's a few words for the "Social" man.

Remember the people you meet. Do not hesitate to speak of people whom you have met in other circles, and don't be afraid to mention in one of the earliest ways to make friends. It makes them feel more comfortable and makes you more agreeable. You can make a more immediate, and convincing impression or gain points by impressing your personal life, add to the conversation, but don't let that be your motive. Never neglect to say "Good night" to the housemother—she's a complaint in the house or not never bring in the subject of the house or the people of the house. She'll be pleased if the house or the people of the house.
