Welcome

To you who are about to enter Miami University we of the M-Book staff extend our warmest welcome. Your freshman year will be filled with many varied activities which will keep you busier than you have ever been.

College is a completely different life—a new experience. We, as upperclassmen, can look back on our freshman year and tell ourselves if we had it to do again, we certainly would have done some things much differently. But actually no one of us would want to change one day of it. It is a year in which you will have our best over all experiences to remember all through your college life.

It will not only mean coping with a new and broader outlook on academic subjects, but learning to live with many types of people in your residence halls. It will entail coordinating your social and your academic life so as not to have one completely overbalance the other. College will teach you to budget your expenses and to budget your time. Above all, you will catch an indefinable something referred to as "that good old college spirit."

The M-Book was prepared by a student staff to assist you in preparing to enter this new aspect of life. We have tried to answer all your questions and help in your choice of activities and various other problems which may have been a subject of some doubt.

All of us are looking forward to seeing you on the campus this fall and we hope you will enjoy Miami as much as we do.

President, Miami University

President's Message

The need today is for wise leadership and a higher level of competent and informed men and women. Miami warmly welcomes all those who seriously desire to take advantage of the opportunities she so profusely supplies. You have the well wishes and faith of those at home, but the responsibility of meriting that confidence and faith cannot be lightly shifted aside. The serious years ahead call for greater intellectual maturity today.

Although the attainment of wisdom comes first, it is equally important to take full advantage of the pleasurable social life of the campus and to train both the mind and the personality. Neither should be shallow. This calls for a sane and sensible readjustment to the liberties and responsibilities of the college community, where higher standards are maintained than those found in average communities, simply because the world has come to the point where the college is supposed to furnish the continually advancing standards in a progressive education.

Many of your predecessors now refer to Miami University as their alma mater. In fact, in the Indian tongue, the word, Miami, means mother. During your stay on the campus may your affections deepen, your hopes and aspirations widen, your vision of your opportunities lengthen, and your will to achieve an education strengthen. To you all Miami extends a hearty welcome.

Ernest H. Hahne
President

Dean of Women

College education has been defined by a philosopher as ideally the experience of a group of persons who are concerned with education, who work together, pray together, dine together, play together, and who advance in the communication of truth through the medium of personality.

Miami University is in a superb position to accomplish many of these aims, owing to an eminent faculty, and a unique residential system staffed by professionally trained heads of hall and highly selected student counselors. Our Women's League and Interresidence council with their officers, committees and panels, have evolved these past forty years in an orbit of democratic participation.

Growth in knowledge and understanding, studies of a liberal nature, civic and spiritual leadership, technical skills, friendship and camaraderie . . . these can be abundantly yours at Miami. May members of the Dean of Women's staff come to be your steadfast friends amid the perplexities and joys of your new adventures.

Dr. Melva Lind
Dean of Women

Director of Men's Affairs

Welcome to the traditions, the scholastic heritage, and the beautiful campus of Miami University. Many of the privileges and responsibilities encountered here will give you the opportunity to develop those qualities which will make you successful in living your life as well as in earning your living. Wise participation in class and extra-class experiences will aid you to become a real part of Miami.

Don't hesitate to ask your student counselors or heads of residence for information and assistance. Bear in mind that other university staff members and students who are acquainted with campus customs will be glad to answer any questions you may have. The primary function of the personnel in the Office of the Dean of Men is to help you with any problems that concern men during student days. This verbal handshake wishes you the best of luck in your university career.

history and tradition

Miami History

"Old Miami! New Miami!
Days of old and days to be
Weave the story of thy glory
Our Miami, here's to thee!"

... from the chorus of our Alma Mater come these words that are in essence a suggestion of the historical background surrounding Miami University. Officially, it came into existence by an act of the Ohio State legislature on February 17, 1809, with Pres. Robert H. Bishop and two faculty members composing the entire teaching staff. As the second oldest state university west of the Allegheny mountains, Miami has established a reputation of which she has long been proud. Illustrious alumni, like President of the U.S. Benjamin Harrison and Whitelaw Reid, have helped to keep her name before the eyes of the world.

Teaching Laboratory

Oxford's McGuffey high school, a teaching laboratory for education students at Miami, was dedicated to the memory of William McGuffey, who wrote many of his famous McGuffey readers while on Miami's teaching staff many years ago.

This was our Miami of old, the "Yale of the West," upon whose solid foundation our present university system is based.

Four Groups Founded Here

Four national greek letter fraternities and two sororities have been founded at Miami. Other chapters have been established over the years, representing many of the national fraternities. The formation of the Alpha chapters of Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi—the Miami Triad—is celebrated annually by regales all over the country.

Aftermath of War

Because of the Civil War, most of the men on our campus left to serve their country as they have done many times since, and the few who returned in that unhappy period after 1865 were not enough to keep the college doors open. In 1873, and for the 12 years that followed, Miami was closed, and then there came a new generation who sought greater understanding of the human race through education, and the old university welcomed them.

"New Miami"

This was the beginning of "New Miami," a rebirth of the ideas upon which she was originally founded and made progressively more modern as the years passed. Women were admitted for the first time in 1887 which, in that day, was indeed a startling innovation. Oxford College for Women was merged with Miami, and today the white-pillared building stands as a residence hall for freshman women.

As the college grew to its present size of 300 beautiful acres, so did the curriculum itself expand from a liberal arts school to four colleges plus a graduate school. And it hasn't stopped growing yet! Each year adds a chapter to the pages of Miami history and tradition that all who enter the tree-lined campus and ivy-covered buildings come to cherish and honor.

The May Queen was crowned at the annual May Day ceremony.

Although it rained last year, the Homecoming bonfire and pep rally proceeded in fine spirits.

Miami Traditions

Left to us by each succeeding graduating class are the many traditions that add color to the life of the Miami student. Each academic year is heralded by Freshman Week, a period of fun and orientation for the newcomer. Throughout the week there are numerous get-acquainted mixers and group gatherings.

Freshman Men Parade

The Pajama Parade, when the Freshman men deck themselves out in their newest and loudest pajamas and serenade the women's dormitories, is an event to be long remembered. During the first few weeks the women will also be honored by impressive serenades from most of the fraternities. Miami football games are big events, with elaborate half-time ceremonies prepared by the marching band. Two Miami Redskins in full dress perform tribal war and victory dances on the field and enthusiastic cheerleaders lead the crowd in yells.

Homecoming Celebration

The Homecoming weekend is the biggest of the year. The election of a queen, gaily colored floats, fraternity house decorations and dressed-up store windows are planned for the occasion.

Two Red Towers

The two red towers of Harrison hall and the late bell that speeds the tardy scholar on his way to class, Slant Walk where friends meet in between classes and for coke dates and the Beta bell tower are all part of the Miami tradition.

Use Kissing Bridge

Another, of which we are particularly fond, is the tradition of the kissing bridge (location: behind Fisher Hall) on which it said a couple must kiss or the bridge will sink beneath the waters of the Tallawanda.

Each year the May Day breakfast is held in honor of the graduating seniors. Outstanding women students are tapped for membership in Cwen, sophomore recognition society, and Mortar Board, senior women's leadership society, at a ceremony presided over by the May Day Queen. A freshman is elected to be chairman of this program and each of the freshmen dormitories plans a part of the entertainment. Men students are tapped for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership society, in the fall of the year. Sorority and fraternity booths raise money at the ODK Carnival to add to the student Union fund.

Miami Parents Honored

Miami parents are honored on Mother's day when the Interfraternity sing and the Panhellenic sing, teas and banquets are held, and on Dad's day in the fall. The annual Red Cap revue gives the freshmen a chance to display their talents in a variety show presented at Benton hall. The Faculty show, which is another Miami tradition, is always well received by the student body. Several major productions of current and well known plays are done each year by the capable Miami university theater group.

Campus Dotted with Banners

During election week in April or May, the campus is dotted with bright posters and flying banners advertising the merits of their respective candidates for election to offices in the student government. The elections are carried on in a spirit of enthusiasm and democracy, under regulations imposed, for the most part, by the students themselves.

The many formal dances, picnics in the spring, Greek Week—these and many more are the traditions which will absorb the freshman as he enters into college life at Miami.

Oxford is 35 miles north of Cincinnati, 15 miles west of Hamilton and ten miles east of the Indiana border. Driving from the northwest through Richmond, Ind., follow route 27. From the northeast, take routes 42, 25, or 127 to connect to 73 into Oxford. Turn west on 73. Train connections are available from Richmond on the Pennsylvania railroad for points on the St. Louis-Washington-New York line. At Middletown, ten miles east of Oxford, connections may be made on the New York Central for Cleveland and New York. At Hamilton or Richmond you may take the E & O trains on the Detroit-Cincinnati line. Bus lines connect Middletown, Dayton, Hamilton and Richmond directly from Oxford. Dayton, Hamilton and Cincinnati have airline facilities.

Freshman Week

Put a big red circle around the day of September 14, for that Sunday marks the beginning of your life at Miami university! In order to give you a chance to become settled in your residence halls and get acquainted with your new school, a few days have been set aside for what we call Freshman Week. Beginning with your arrival in Oxford on Sunday and ending with the first day of classes on Friday, the whole week is designed to help you feel at home at Miami.

Rooms are Opened

Upon arriving in Oxford, women may go directly to their assigned rooms, but men will first pick up their room keys at Benton hall. Your head resident and counselors will be on hand to welcome you and help in the seemingly impossible task of getting settled in your room.

You will be given a list of Freshman Week activities in your residence halls. It may seem to you that it will take a whole week at least to decipher the schedule, but cheer up—it's not as complicated as it looks!

Convocation Begins It

The Convocation in Benton hall on Sunday night will mark the official beginning of the week. There you will be introduced to the President and other school leaders.

Mixers Revive Spirit

The Freshman Mixer held at Withrow Court will be another first—your first social event at Miami. Here you will have a very good chance to get acquainted with your new classmates.

The freshman womens' residence halls hold open houses during this week. Women's League and the YWCA and YMCA offer refresher teas and mixers during the next few days to help you overcome that "dragged out" feeling after your busy hours of registration, payline, tests and tours.

Exams Come Next

Some of you may have taken the psychological tests during the summer, but for those who didn't, that will be one of the first things on the agenda. And there will be physical exams, too.

You have probably spent a great deal of time thinking about the school you want to enter and the classes you would like to take. It is wise to do at least a little planning of this sort before you start in with registration. Your head resident and the advisors helping with registration will be willing and able assistants with any problems you may have.

Payline is Part of Enrolling

Payline is the next step in the process of becoming officially enrolled as a Miami student. Here you pay by cash or check such items as room, board and registration fees. Here also you will have your picture taken for an identification card which will serve as your passport to sports events, Artists Series programs and library privileges.

So that you will be able to find your way around Miami like an old-timer, there will be tours of the campus. Various other meetings at Benton and in your residence hall with help even more to make you feel that Miami is your new home.

Campus Tour

Benton

Women

Where You'll Live . . .

On Sunday the fourteenth you will move your wardrobe, hobby collection, tennis racquet, and favorite beau's picture into the room assigned and you'll be entering a new phase of your life.

This residence hall is to be your home while here at Miami. You'll find the friendly atmosphere, the guiding hand of your head resident, and the advice and information from your sophomore counselors very pleasant and helpful.

Decorations are Up to You

The room which you will share with one or two girls is yours to arrange and decorate as you wish. Curtains or drapes, bright bedspreads, and rugs give the room a comfortable and pleasant atmosphere in which to work and play.

Meet Your Counselors

Your residence hall will be divided into corridors with a certain number of girls and two counselors to each corridor. At the weekly corridor meetings you will become more acquainted with your neighbors and the system of women's government here at Miami. Each corridor elects a representative to the house council. At house meetings the head resident, the junior house chairman and her assistant, the counselors, and the corridor representatives discuss and take action on any situations that might arise and plan many social functions throughout the year.

After Hours

A get together after hours where food is the outstanding feature and where small talk on fashions, boys, and any other subject of interest is exchanged is called a spread. Many a happy time is spent at just such a gathering.

To the open houses planned by the house council you will invite your guest to come and dance, eat and four the residence hall. Throughout the year many exchange suppers with the men's residence halls are scheduled.

Besides these activities you will help plan and act as hostess at faculty teas, dances, and parties. All of these help to make you days here at Miami the best days of your life.

So don't forget to pack your toothbrush and—hurry on to MIAMI!

What to Bring . . . For Your Room

Each woman must bring at least three sheets and two pillow cases with name, room number and residence hall stamped or written in indelible ink on each one. The University launders these each week. Also bring blankets, towels, and pillow.

Write Your Roomie

If you have already written to your roommates, you may be able to decide on your drapes, bedspreads and rugs before you come. If not, you can buy them here.

Small chests, drying racks and wardrobe bags are very useful. A few big suit boxes or footlockers are useful for storing articles.

Some additional articles to bring are wastebaskets, an alarm clock, iron, hair dryer, shoe racks, laundry bag, dresser scarves, and dust cloths. Dishes and silverware are good for snacks and after-hour "spreads."

No Wall Holes

You cannot hang articles on the walls in your room because of making holes in the plaster, but you can hang pictures, bulletin boards, and shelves from the molding around the ceiling. Be sure to have your dad pack some molding hooks and rope or wire. You might even find use for a hammer!

What to Bring . . . For Yourself

Your counselor will send you in the summer a list of the necessary articles to include in your wardrobe.

Campus life at Miami is known for its casualness, and it is quite wise if you select your wardrobe after considering this fact.

Cottons are Handy

Cottons come in very handy as the weather is quite warm here for a few weeks after classes begin. As cool weather approaches typical college outfit comes into style; skirt and sweater, or blouse, with loafers or saddle shoes.

Suits can be worn for any occasion. At Sunday dinner everyone dresses up and heels or flats and hose are necessary. Jeans and slacks are good for picnics, walks and on Saturdays.

Dress Up, Too!

A few dressy dresses that can be used for special occasions such as teas, weekend parties and sorority open houses are needed. Good taste is more important than elaborate or sophisticated styles. Hats are usually worn only for church. One purse for weekends or church is sufficient, as most women only carry wallets to classes and around campus.

And Boots . . .

Raincoat, umbrella, and boots are needed for the rainy spring.

One or two formals are plenty for the formal dances and parties. Something that will take the wear and tear of cleaning and packing away is best. Also a short ballerina formal is convenient as you have quite a bit of walking—and many times in the rain or snow!

Seems that these men are listening to an interesting discussion—women, maybe?

Smells of popcorn popping and ukes playing can only mean one thing—"spread" in the dorm tonight! Really tastes good after a hard day at class.

Residence Hall Rules

Miami is known for its friendliness. As soon as you arrive you will begin to discover why. Sophomore counselors will be at the door to greet you when you arrive.

Two of these counselors will live in your corridor. A junior woman serves as housechairman, who was a counselor last year. She is head of the present sophomore counselors.

Meet Your Head Resident

You should also meet the head resident of your hall as soon as possible. She will be supervisor of your residence hall activities and your academic advisor during your freshman year.

It is important that you understand some of the rules that are necessary for a smooth running residence hall. Whenever you go out after 7 in the evening you must sign out in a book giving your name and destination. When you come back you must sign the time of your return.

Buy a Watch

Closing hours during the week are 10 p.m.; 11 p.m. on Friday and Sunday. All women must be in at midnight on Saturday unless there is a "late per" for a dance or other University function.

Washing facilities are available, varying from automatic washers to tubs for hand laundry, depending on the hall. Ironing boards, kitchenette and drying space are also available.

Men

What to Bring . . . For Yourself

Miami men dress casually and according to individual taste. If you are planning to add to your wardrobe before entering the University this fall, here are a few suggestions to give you an idea of what type of dress is usually worn—to classes and on dates.

Be in Style

For classes, flannel slacks, khakis or levis are the fashion, favored for their durability. Wool shirts, sweaters and white shirts fill in for any time of day. White buck shoes are afoot every day of the school year, although a pair of cordovans or dress shoes is desirable for special functions. Leave high school insignia sweaters at home—they are not part of the college man's attire.

She'll Love It

On dates, a sport coat, usually tweed or vertical stripe, and slacks meet the requirements for most parties. Coats and ties are necessary for the evening meal, so a variety will be welcome. Many men have tuxedos for formal affairs but an Oxford gray flannel suit can often be used to better advantage than a lux. Cleaning bills will testify that dark suits are preferable to light colors. Regimental striped ties, argyle socks and v-neck sweaters, either cashmere or wool knit, seem to be an essential part of a man's wardrobe at Miami. White shorts, tee shirts and gym shoes will be necessary for the required physical education course as well as an occasional game of tennis during warm weather. Golf clubs and swimming trunks will come in handy during those sunshiny days.

Rain—We've Got It

Most men wear short jackets to classes and often on dates. There is a great variety of these, from wool plaid to nylon gabardine, according to differing tastes. For warm autumn and spring days, a lightweight poplin or suede zipper jacket is suggested. A heavy topcoat will be needed for winter and a raincoat is almost a necessity for the unpredictable Oxford weather.

What to Bring . . . For Your Room

Very few furnishings are needed for your room since the University supplies you with beds, pillows, dressers, chairs, a study table and lamp. Sheets and pillowcases are also provided by your residence hall and will be laundered for you. You may bring throw rugs and a bedspread if you wish, although they are not necessary. Be sure to bring blankets, hangers, and, of course, an alarm clock for those 8 o'clock classes.

Remember Little Things

Towels, shower clogs, molding hooks, a sewing kit for socks and buttons, silverware and a can opener for midnight lunches will be convenient items to have, but to save luggage space many of these may be purchased in Oxford. A portable radio can serve a dual purpose, in your room and on picnics, but your study habits should govern your choice of bringing one to school.

Extra Helps

Don't forget shoeshine equipment to keep your footwear in top shape, and often a small can of cleaning fluid will come in handy for stains and spots on clothing. If you smoke, an ashtray for your desk is useful, especially at exam time. Again you will be able to buy such accessories here at school.

Where You'll Live . . .

Life in your residence hall will be something that you will pleasantly remember for years.

Upperclass counselors will live in your corridor.

Get Acquainted

You should also get to know your head of residence.

You're sure to have a good time with your friends in the corridor, but you must keep your hall quiet for sleep and study.

During the first few weeks all the fraternities on campus will serenade freshman residence halls in honor of the new students.

At sorority rush parties in the fall one will be able to meet all types of people.

Counselors

On hand to welcome you when you arrive at Miami this fall will be your sophomore counselor who will be a big help in explaining the rules and customs of college life and willing to give advice and information.

The sophomore counselors have been carefully chosen from last year's freshman women on the basis of scholarship, personality, leadership, ability to get along with people and a desire to serve.

Hierarchy Told

Two counselors live in each corridor of all women's freshman residence halls. Heading the residence hall is the housechairman, who is a junior and a former counselor, and her assistant, the junior counselor.

A similar system of counseling is used in the freshman men's residence halls. In each corridor there are two men counselors who are in charge of approximately 30 men.

Consult Counselors

During the year freshman men should feel free to consult their counselors on any problems that may come up. The counselors, besides giving a helping hand, conduct corridor meetings and sponsor many corridor parties.

Men who serve as counselors are chosen by head residents and the Director of Student Affairs. They are selected on the basis of scholarship and leadership ability.

Expenses

Everything about coming to college is a new experience, including the way you learn to handle and pay your bills. No Miami student will ever forget payline. Payline comes in the beginning of each semester when you must be prepared to pay half of the year's expenses.

Bank It Anywhere

You may do this by keeping your own bank account at home or at one of the Oxford banks. It is not advisable to carry large amounts of cash in your pocket. Many students bring blank checks, signed by their parents, to fill out at payline or the bookstore. Later you might arrange with your parents a system of weekly or monthly allowances.

Expense List Told

Here is a list of one semester's expenses which are due in payline. In addition to these expenses there are music fees for those taking music lessons, gym fees for certain sports which vary from $.75 to $18 and laboratory fees ranging from $.25 to $20 for various classes.

As soon as your academic schedule is approved, take it to one of the book stores to buy the required books. Total cost of these vary from $15 to $50. All of the expenses listed here are to be paid in full except board which may be paid in installments during the semester:

Student Employment

After looking over the expenses, you may be thinking of some way to earn part of them yourself, as many students do. The University offers jobs for students waiting tables or working in the kitchens. Further employment may be secured as a "bell boy" or "bell girl" to answer telephones in the residence halls.

Library Offers Jobs

The Alumni library has jobs for students as clerks. Many professors need people for grading papers, or you may serve as a laboratory assistant in that field in which you are interested.

For those who enjoy the outdoor life several positions are offered by the Departments of Buildings and Grounds. For those interested in journalism, the top positions on the Miami Student, the Revensio and the Tomahawk afford financial compensation. These positions, however, are for juniors and seniors only.

Many Are on Waiting List

There is a very lengthy waiting list for these jobs. If you wish to apply for them, immediately notify the Director of Student employment in room 106, Benton hall.

Scholarships

Besides student employment, Miami offers one hundred eighty-five scholarships to freshmen.

Qualifications for these scholarships are based on a high four-year high school scholastic record and distinction in extra-curricular activities. If you have these qualifications you may compete for a scholarship.

Careful Study Made

After careful study of the applicants' records on the basis of character, scholarship, personality, leadership and need, the scholarships are awarded by a faculty committee which has been appointed by the President.

Housing

Hepburn hall

Freshmen women will live in Hepburn, Anderson, Swing and Oxford College halls. Women living in Morris, Blanchard and Walker houses eat at Oxford College and are considered as part of that unit.

Upperclass women's residence halls include Hamilton, South, Bishop, Stanton and Wells halls. Sorority suites are located in Hamilton and South halls. Some suites have been planned for the Lodges which will be vacated by the men in the fall.

Residence halls for freshman men include Fisher hall (which has a colorful history ranging from a ladies' seminary to an insane asylum), Reid and Symmes halls. Two new residence halls are under construction at the present time and will be ready for use.

Upperclass men live in Ogden, Elliott, Stoddard, McMaster house and the Pines Lodges.

From the Horse's Mouth

- Aced, foxed—speaking of exams, an "A" or an "F."
Bird-dogging—take your eye off my guy!
Campused—Saturday night in the dormitory, enforced.
Cram session—what not to do before a test; consists of headaches and numerous cups of coffee.
Dear John—love's labors lost via the mailman.
Fabulous—tremendous and really great!
Fan Mail—letters from home.
The Flicks—movie-mad.
I.D.—Idiot's delight, or your passport to campus activities.
Libe—unofficial date bureau, officially the Alumni library.
Miami Special—sentimental journey at a cut rate, or the long ride home.
Odd-ball—a silly willy.
"Res it up!"—coffee with the Indians, officially a party at the Student Union.
Roomie—cellmate for the year.
Sam Spade—the campus crime-buster.
See ya around campus—so long, friend.
The Shaft—the brush-off, or you've had it and don't know it.
Shot down—feeling as low as a turtle's tummy, or my anchor's dragging.
Shot with the program—as Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis say, "I Like it!"
Tee'd off—much ado about something, or she hit me with a golf club.
That's for the birds—crumby.
What's the story?—give me the straight scoop.

The Big Decision -- Registration

When you are finally settled in your residence halls, there are certain important matters to be taken care of before classes may begin. The most important of these is registration for classes. The first few days of Freshman Week, upperclass advisers from the University's various departments help freshman and transfer students decide which courses of study they will pursue during the year.

Scan That Catalogue

The choosing of courses should be carefully considered before meeting with the advisers. After being accepted to the University, the prospective student receives a University catalogue. Our advice is to read this manual thoroughly before entering the University. If you do not understand the explanations of requirements and subjects covered in the various offered courses, consult someone who does and who can explain the matter to you.

Enter Confusion

Registration often seems perplexing to the incoming student. In an attempt to alleviate as much confusion and worry on the part of the student as possible, upperclass advisers, who have first hand knowledge of the needs of students pursuing various fields, discuss the courses with each individual going through registration.

Its Your Choice

If you have previously decided upon your field of concentration or your major field of study, your choice should not be difficult. For those who have not decided upon a particular field, the University suggests a liberal course of study before making a final decision. These students in particular should carefully consider their own interests and abilities.

Academic Aspects

On entering Miami university you will be enrolled in one of the four schools--the College of Arts and Science, the School of Education, the School of Business Administration, or the School of Fine Arts. Courses toward a Master's degree are offered in the Graduate school.

Arts and Science

The College of Arts and Science provides a well balanced, general education. It seeks, through a varied curriculum with reasonable opportunities for election of courses, to develop an excellent background for later professional study and life work. In your junior and senior years special encouragement is given to definite preparation and specialization for a chosen career. You will receive preliminary training for professional interest in engineering, law, medicine, science and theology. On the successful completion of the course of study, you will be granted either the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science.

Education

The School of Education has consistently met all standards of the accrediting agencies, exceeding the minimum in many respects. It provides training in elementary education, secondary education and practical arts. Adequate opportunities are made available for student teaching in all grades and teaching fields. A two, three, or four year curriculum is offered in elementary education. The division of secondary education offers courses designed to prepare teachers chiefly for the academic subjects in grades seven to twelve. The practical arts division includes arts education, business education and health and physical education. After completion of the four-year curriculum, Bachelor of Science in Education will be awarded.

Business Administration

The School of Business Administration emphasizes the fundamentals common in business. More specialized subjects are offered each year affording adequately prepared upperclassmen an opportunity to pursue more thoroughly their particular interests. You may enter such fields as finance, business economics, production administration, marketing and control. In courses of instruction, special effort is made to include the study of actual business problems arising in the enterprises of business. Upon graduation from this school the degrees Bachelor of Science in Business or Bachelor of Science in Secretarial Studies will be granted.

Fine Arts

If you are interested in music or art, you may enroll in the School of Fine Arts. The department of music offers a four or five year curriculum, including courses in applied music, music theory, and music history and literature. The department of art offers courses in the fields of painting and the graphic arts. It also trains students in the principles and applications of design to industrial and decorative art. This school also provides a five year curriculum in architecture. Aside from acquiring technical skill the student prepares himself to carry public responsibility. A Bachelor's degree is awarded from each of the above divisions of the School of Fine Arts.

Grading System

Grades for freshmen come out after the first five weeks, but throughout the rest of your college days, you will receive them only at the end of nine week periods and at semesters.

The Formula

An A will earn you 4 credit points, a B-3, a C-2, a D-1, and an F-0. To figure your point average, multiply the points for each grade by the number of hours of credit given for the course. Then add the products and divide by the total number of hours you are taking, disregarding your physical education credit.

If your average does not come out 1.4 or above the first semester, you are placed on probation. After you are once on probation, you may be dropped from the University any time your grades fall below the probation standard again.

To Cut or Not to Cut

Cutting classes is not a very good practice, and may result in a grade of "F," if you are absent from class to any great extent without an excuse.

Cutting the last meeting of any class preceding vacation, or the first one after a holiday, will result in one-half hour per class added onto your graduation requirement.

In The Classroom

Do you remember the increased freedom and sense of maturity you experienced upon entering high school? In a small degree, that period of your life prepared you for your entrance into a university situation such as Miami.

The Grind Begins

You will attend approximately 15 hours of classes each week—from Monday to Saturday noon. Three-hour courses meet three times a week.

There are so many people registering for classes in September that it would be a good idea if you looked through the catalogs and got a general idea of what courses are available and approximately what the subject material will be.

The Bells Tell

The lecture system is used by most professors, but you will have ample opportunity for discussion.

All classes begin 10 minutes after the hour from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and you will soon recognize the clang of Harrison's bell informing you that classes have started. Classes end on the hour with the ringing of the Beta Bells.

Be There

Cutting classes is left to the discretion of the student. This will also vary according to the professor and according to the student's ability. The mature college student will find it advisable not to cut class unless excused, because if your work is not satisfactory you can be dropped with a grade of "F" in the course.

The last meeting of all classes before and after vacations are compulsory. Absence will result in the addition of a half hour credit to your graduation requirement.

Quizzes Add Up

Tests and quizzes depend on the professor, but there are usually nine-week (mid-semester) tests and there are two-hour exams in all courses at the end of the semester. Cheating of any kind will result in an automatic "F" in the exam and in the course.

On The Sea

The Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps offers programs for "Regular" and "Contract" students. Complete information including campus requirements, remuneration, summer cruise requirements and after-graduation duty may be obtained from the officers of the Corps on campus at the Naval Armory.

In The Air

The Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps program is on a slightly different plan from that of the Navy. Complete information can be obtained at the Air Force office in Upham hall.

Any male student able to meet the physical requirements may enroll in the program provided the quota for the unit is not filled. The requirements include a three-hour-a-week class and a drill period.

Will you do your studying next year in the library . . .

Or will you be at the swimming pool
most of the time?

Choose Your Career

We are proud of the fact that Miami is one of the few schools to offer each new student the benefits and privileges of a counseling service. There is a genuine need that all students feel for guidance in choosing a life-time vocation. The counseling service recognizes this fact and offers its years of experience and wealth of information to all who seek assistance.

Many students who come to college are not sure just where their interests lie, or what their abilities are. Perhaps you are one of them. The aptitude tests plus the vocational and educational counseling offered at Miami are at your service to help you determine just what you want to do now and in the future.

It's easy to see why problems resulting from academic difficulties are so miraculously ironed out by the counseling service. Why not call on them to direct your footsteps on the path of a successful career.

Wade MacMillan Hospital

Miami's Wade MacMillan hospital is a modern up-to-date building situated on East Spring street. It is under the direction of Dr. Paul C. Schumacher.

Clinic hours from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p.m. daily. Students are admitted at these times for any minor or emergency treatment. Special cases and emergency cases are received at any time. The Health fee paid in payline covers inexpensive medicine or treatment for all students (plus three days per year hospital care without charge.)

Cars on Campus

Cars are forbidden on the Miami campus except in special cases. If you desire to bring your car for a special reason, contact the office of Men's Housing in room 106 Benton hall soon after you arrive.

Everyone is required to secure a car permit sticker if he has permission to keep a car on campus.

Permits are granted on the basis of physical disableness and for business purposes. All commuters, Oxford residents, married students and those over 25 years of age are likewise granted permission.

social life

Night Life

Miami students anxiously look forward to the many social activities that fill each weekend. To put the freshman class in that "party mood" during the initial week, there is the Freshman Mixer, your first college dance. With open houses in the men's residence halls and exchange dinners between the residence halls, the freshman men and women soon get acquainted during the first month of school.

Football Games Exciting

Saturday afternoon football games are exciting events that are attended by most Miami students. One day is set aside as Dads' Day when the fathers are honored at half-time ceremonies. A few weeks later Homecoming weekend finds the fraternity men busily decorating their houses and the sorority members putting the finishing touches to their gaily-bedecked floats. On Friday night a pep rally and a bonfire build up pre-game spirit to a high level. A Homecoming king and queen are crowned at the game, and the festivities are completed in the evening with a big formal dance.

Formal Dances . . .

Withrow Court is the site of two more formal dances held in the fall—the Sophomore Hop and the Panhellenic dance. Christmas activities are climaxed by the annual winter formals held by the fraternities. In addition to the festive dance programs, each date is given a special gift as a remembrance of that special night.

A Woman's Prerogative

After vacation three fraternities which were founded at Miami sponsor the Triad dance. A few weeks later each woman has an opportunity to escort her favorite man to the Women's League dance. In keeping with this turnabout tradition each woman makes a corsage for her date, and it is usually not of flowers. The Miami University theatre presents a number of plays which provide another source of entertainment.

Big Event

The second semester gets under way with one of the biggest events of the year, the Junior Prom, for which late permission is granted until 2:30 a.m. The junior men elect a queen and the members of her court, who are presented at intermission.

The ODK Carnival provides an unusual type of entertainment, featuring various booths and contests set up carnival style in Withrow Court. Each booth is built and operated by a fraternity and sorority working together.

Midshipmen Shine

On the night of the Navy ball the Midshipmen dressed in their blue uniforms can be seen picking up their dates. Later, the AFROTC and the NROTC get together to hold the Military ball, which is open to all students. Another highlight of the spring is the Interfraternity ball. It is the climax of the Greek Week activities and is attended by more than 1000 fraternity men and their dates. The last all-campus formal dance of the year and one of the most outstanding is the Senior ball. In May the fraternity spring formals bring the year's social activities to a spectacular close.

Artists Series

The Artists Series is one of the first social activities incoming freshmen hear about as soon as Freshmen Week is over. It is mainly through the facilities of the Artists Series that you will see and hear many great artists throughout your years at Miami.

Just a brief preview of the coming years shows us such well-known performers as The Robert Shaw Chorale, Monty Wooley, and the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra.

In the past years, Miami has had many outstanding personalities such as Robert Frost, Gladys

Swarthout, and the "First Drama Quartet," composed of Agnes Moorehead, Charles Boyer, Charles Laughton and Sir Cedric Hardwicke. Cultural opportunities are available for just the price of your activity book. Where else could you see such artists so inexpensively?

Miami Clubs

If you are from Dayton, Cleveland or Cincinnati you will be interested in the Miami clubs, sponsored by these cities. Perhaps you have already had your first welcome to Miami in the form of a picnic this past summer, and at Miami you will meet other members of your city's club.

At vacation time when you are looking for a ride home all you have to do is consult your Miami club and you will most likely find a means of transportation with someone going right past your door.

During Christmas vacation you will meet many alums at the annual Christmas dance sponsored by your Miami club, and you will also have the privilege of voting for a queen to reign over the occasion.

Student Union

When a Miami student is looking for three more so that he can be the fourth for bridge, he generally ends up at the Redskin reservation. The "Res" is Miami's temporary Student Union and operates cafeteria style, serving everyone with that quick cup of coffee on the way to an eight-o'clock class or just a casual coke over a bridge hand.

Plans for a new Student Union are almost completed and are being considered carefully by both students and faculty so as not to omit any important detail. A certain percentage of the profits from the "Res" are turned over to a Student Union fund and many organizations—students, alumni, and faculty—have given benefit shows and dances to increase the fund.

Refreshments are served at a fraternity winter formal . . .

These young ladies are getting ready for a "French cabaret" party at one of the fraternity houses.

Publications

The Oldest College Newspaper

The Miami Student, the oldest college newspaper in the United States, has an unlimited number of jobs for freshmen. Freshmen editorial staff members are concerned chiefly with obtaining and writing material to be used in the paper, proof-reading galley and writing headlines. The sports staff covers all news which concerns athletics, and the business staff makes it possible to publish the paper by soliciting advertisements. The Student is published every Tuesday and Friday during the school year. Promotions are given on the basis of satisfactory and willing work. Watch for a notice in the Student asking for freshman volunteers for any of these staffs.

Never Goes Out of Date

The Recensio offers students the opportunity to work on a publication which never goes out of date. Editorial, photography, art and business staffs provide work of almost any type for freshmen. The editorial and photography staffs write copy, read proofs and photograph campus events.

The art staff's job is to compile all the material and plan the "dummy page." The business staff takes care of the advertising, subscriptions, and keeps the books. A freshman automatically becomes an office manager if he puts in sixty hours of work on the Recensio during the year.

Humor Magazine

The Tomahawk, Miami's campus magazine, is published five times during the year. Although it is sometimes known as a humor magazine, it also includes serious literary works by Miami students. Along with the writing staff there are positions on the photography, art, promotion, business and other staffs for any freshman willing to work.

The "Bible"

The M-Book, which is prepared during the second semester of the school year, especially welcomes freshmen on its staffs. The job of the M-Book is to answer any questions you might have about Miami and to help you get better acquainted with the University. Since freshmen have very recently had questions of their own, their experience can help in putting out a better M-Book.

Publications Open House

The publications open house, which will be held early in the school year, will offer you the opportunity to find out more about these publications and meet the people working on them. Watch the Student for an announcement of this event.

Dramatics

Miami University Theater

The Miami University theater is the dramatic organization affiliated with the National Theater conference. Membership in MUT is based on the number of hours served either as a member of a cast or a production crew. Forty-five hours of work entitles any student to full membership.

Each year the Miami University theater produces in the Towers theater (111 Harrison Hall) eight or ten bills of one-act and full length plays. Freshmen are urged especially to try out for these Towers Theater productions since it is in these productions that new talent is discovered and developed.

Theater Honorary

The Merrie Players, founded in 1911, is one of the oldest honoraries on the campus. Membership is based on distinguished work in all phases of theatrical activity. Candidates are invited to join after being recommended by a committee composed of the officers and a faculty adviser.

Block M members sit on the 50-yard line for every game.

The four publications on campus: Student, Recensio, M-Book and Tomahawk.

On the Air . . .

Three women in a radio class, one room, two mikes—these formed the beginning of Miami's radio broadcasting which has grown to include WRMU, the carrier-current station heard on campus only, and WMUB the FM station, which covers the surrounding area for twenty miles in each direction.

Including both the FM and AM stations, Miami's total hours of broadcasting each week average 79. The all-student staff of 125 is under the supervision of three part-time faculty members.

Tryouts are held in the fall for students interested in the dramatic aspects of radio. Other positions open to all students include record librarian, disc jockeys and announcers.

Previous experience is not a prerequisite to positions on the radio staff. However, it is important that if you fancy yourself a budding disc jockey or an embryo engineer you start as a freshman in related fields of radio and work up to these more advanced positions.

Speakers Bureau

The Speakers' bureau occupies an important place in Miami's program of community service and public relations, since it furnishes speakers for almost 1000 clubs and civic organizations in the Miami valley.

Speech courses are not prerequisite for work in this organization. Students interested in conveying ideas and broadening their experience in speaking before diversified audiences will find vast opportunities in the Speakers' bureau.

Each speaker has his particular field of interest and must modify his topic somewhat as determined by the various types of audiences he will be meeting.

Forensic Honorary

Tau Kappa Alpha, speech honorary, is composed of members of the Speakers' bureau who have given 20 speeches to off-campus groups. Finalists in the Fisk Oratorical contest for men are also eligible for membership. This honorary sponsors the 4 o'clock Lecture series and participates in sectional, state and national oratory contests.

Music

Choral Union

"Do you like to sing?" This is the friendly question which will be asked of you in your opening weeks at Miami.

If you do like to sing but have an untrained voice, the Choral Union is for you. Participation in this group requires no audition, and it provides its members with a chance to sing not only for themselves but in actual performance, on and off campus.

The Choral Union this year presented concerts for the University at Christmas and Easter, in addition to their spring concert and a more informal assembly program. The music sung in these performances varied from the classics of the old masters to the better known works of contemporary composers such as selections from "Roberta" and other popular and modern productions.

Women's Choral Society

The Women's Choral society has the distinction of being Miami's first choral group. Tryouts are held at the beginning of each year for all those who are interested. Freshmen are especially urged to tryout. This group has no fixed quota but its membership is usually about 60.

Besides joining with the other choral groups on campus to sing with the Cincinnati Symphony in the spring, the Women's Choral society participates in University assemblies and presents various concerts to the student body. Each year the group also makes an annual tour all over the state of Ohio.

Men's Glee Club

Each year forty-five well-trained men hold membership in the Men's Glee club. Although auditions must be passed to be accepted into this select group, its membership is well distributed among the four classes, and freshman men are as welcome as upperclass men.

Mr. George Barron directs the group. While its members act together as a club, participants receive academic credit for their work.

Campus Owls

The Campus Owls has been Miami's traditional dance band since 1921. This group plays both on campus and at such colleges as University of Cincinnati, Ohio State university and Ohio university. Tryouts are held in the fall for all those musicians interested in playing with the band.

A Cappella Choir

If you are interested in singing in a mixed chorus of about 50 voices, the A Cappella choir should be your choice. This group performs both with and without accompaniment, thus making it necessary for students to audition for the privilege of singing this specialized type of music.

Academic credit is given to Fine Arts students and other students may also receive up to one year's credit for their work.

Practices are held one and one-half hours twice a week. Every year the group, together with the other choral units on campus, sings with the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra. In addition to this concert, the A Cappella choir performs an annual Christmas and spring concert.

Band

The main function of the University band in the fall is to present half-time entertainment at the football games. Each week they present a new and different series of interesting formations.

After the football season ends the band splits up into two groups—the varsity band and the symphonic band. The varsity band plays at the basketball games. In the spring they give their annual concert on the steps of the library. Each year they make one out-of-town tour. The symphonic band gives frequent concerts and provides the music for commencement exercises in June.

There are many opportunities here for freshmen interested in playing in the band. Women as well as men are welcome to try out for the marching band.

Symphonic Orchestra

The University Symphony orchestra is one of Miami's most active musical organizations. During the year they give several concerts on campus and make out-of-town tours. The orchestra also provides the background music for dramatic productions and sometimes takes an active part in plays.

Each year there are many positions open in the orchestra. They welcome anyone who can play an instrument and is interested in playing in the orchestra. Incoming freshmen are encouraged to try for these positions. You may take orchestra as a credit subject or may play for the enjoyment.

Y's

YM

The YMCA, which is founded on the principles of respect for God, church and community, is a student-governed organization. Membership cards are available to those men who are interested in the purpose and privileges of the Y.

The privilege of having a government by its own council modeled after the upperclass cabinet is offered to you. Before Freshman Week the Y also sponsors a camp at Camp Campbell Gard near Hamilton. At this time freshmen have the opportunity of meeting other incoming students and upperclass campus leaders.

The central office of the Y is located in Ogden hall, and regulates such activities as the snack bars in the Lodges and Symmes hall and the game rooms in Ogden and Symmes halls. A budget to carry on these Y-sponsored projects in the residence halls comes from the Miami Chest drive.

YW

During Freshman Week your first introduction to the YWCA will be through the Freshman Mixer, the "coke tail" or the Y-Hi parties sponsored with the YMCA.

The Freshman Y holds meetings every two weeks for discussion groups, speakers and service projects. The meetings are governed by a Freshman council which functions and cooperates with the upperclass cabinet.

Freshmen participate in different discussion groups each week. When you become an upperclass member of the YWCA, you can participate in special interest groups which include committees that discuss foreign problems, literature, home planning, personal relations, preparation for marriage and service projects. The YWCA puts out a publication for all women on campus called the Live Y'er.

The Y offices are located in Hepburn hall.

Block M

Block-M, the Redskin team behind the team, welcomes all you football fans to a seat on the fifty yard line at all home games. The colorful center of student cheering, Block-M provides the inspiration and enthusiasm that keeps our team's spirit on top with their clever card formations. These rabid fans work with the band to present a sparkling half-time show. The $5 deposit fee is the only membership requirement, and will be refunded to you at the season's end, if you have attended all home games or have sent a substitute in your place.

Political Clubs

Fostering interest in the political activities of the nation and acquainting Miami students with the operation, leaders, and ideals connected with their respective parties is the purpose of the Young Republican and the Young Democrat clubs.

Both of these organizations are affiliated with their national parties, and each takes an active part in political life by studying mock political conventions, campaigning for local elections, improving political conditions, or meeting with leading political speakers in this locality.

It's Your Duty

Besides acquainting the members with the policies of its own party, each club tries to instill in college students a general knowledge of politics, which is certainly a necessity in the world today.

These groups have been organized within the last several years, and membership is open to all students on the campus, including freshmen.

Religious Groups

Religion plays a large part on Miami's campus. At present there are ten student religious groups. Most of these organizations are affiliated with the University through the office of the Director of Religious activities. Not only are there student foundations to carry on religious activity, but you will find that all the major sects have established churches in Oxford.

Some of the groups have a full-time staff, while others have adult leadership on a part-time basis.

Follow Your Faith

Most of the groups are also members of the Student Religious Council which coordinates and strengthens religious activity on campus. This organization creates fellowship among the religious organizations and encourages voluntary cooperation and the fostering of religious thought.

On alternating years, a "Religion in Life Week" is held at Miami. Each year the Student Religious Council sponsors a "Fireside program" wherein religious leaders and outstanding speakers are available for discussions in the dormitory, sorority and fraternity groups. This provides an opportunity for you to learn more about the beliefs of others, as well as deepening your own religious faith.

Pick Your Group

During Freshman Week one evening will be set aside as Church night. You will be given an opportunity to find out about the activities and location of each of the groups in an assembly which will be held in Benton hall. After the assembly, open houses will be held so that you may become acquainted with the student group of your preference.

The following groups will welcome you into their membership:

United Student fellowship (Congregational-Christian and Evangelical and Reformed)

Baptist-Disciple Foundation

African Methodist Episcopal

Lutheran Student Association

Newman Club

Hillel Foundation (Jewish, sponsored by B'nai B'rith)

Canterbury Club (Protestant Episcopal)

Wesley Foundation (Methodist)

Christian Science Organization

United Presbyterian Foundation

Westminster Foundation (Presbyterian Church, USA)

Miami Government

Freshman Council

For those who have leadership ability, Freshman council is the first rung on the campus political ladder. Qualifications are a 2.0 average at five weeks, willingness to work and the necessary backing.

Battling for Ballots

Elections are held late in October or early in November. About four days before balloting campaigning begins with putting up posters, passing out name tags and staging publicity stunts.

Advantage Counted by 150 Lots

Since one council member is elected for every 150 votes cast, it is to the advantage of every candidate to get as many to vote as possible. The Hare Proportional system is used in which candidates are listed according to preference. Second and third choices are almost as important—yet they do not affect first choices in that they are not counted until the first name is either elected or eliminated.

Highest Bid Tags Prexy

The person receiving the most votes is president of the freshman class. The rest of the class officers are also selected from the Freshman council. For every 400 freshmen registered there is one Freshman council member on the Student-Faculty council, the all-campus deliberative body. These freshman representatives are selected in the order in which they were elected to the Freshman council.

The functions of the Council include sponsoring several class dances during the year and the Red Cap Revue, the freshman variety show. In bringing new legislation before the Student-Faculty council, Freshman council represents the whole Freshman class.

Women's League

Women's League is the Miami branch of National Intercollegiate Association of Women Students, which promotes self-government within women's residence halls. Each woman becomes a member of Women's League upon her entrance at Miami.

A helpful guide to the rules and procedure for obtaining late permission, leaving campus overnight and other residence hall policies, is the Women's League booklet, For Women Only. Copies were given to every freshman woman.

IR Council Sets Penalties

The penalties for minor violations of these rules are standardized by one of the League's standing committees, Interresidence council. Individual cases are heard by the house council of each residence hall and the proper penalty given by them.

In addition to the house chairman, the president or a representative from each organization on campus is a member of the executive body.

Promotes Leadership

Women's League is especially interested in promoting leadership to further women's progress in campus affairs and sponsors seminars at which attendance of prospective leaders is encouraged.

A turn-about dance, an assembly featuring an outstanding woman speaker, and the traditional and impressive May Day ceremonies are sponsored annually by the League. It is in the May Day ceremonies that the officers for the coming year are installed.

Two emergency loan funds are maintained for all women students. One is for short-term loans up to $10, and the second enables sophomores to borrow $100, juniors $125, and seniors $175. Two semester-tuition scholarships for juniors or seniors are also sponsored by the League.

Election eve High street is the scene of an enthusiastic parade.

Student-Faculty Council

The Student-Faculty council is the organization where students and faculty meet together for campus debate and discussion. The student body elects their representatives and the faculty members are chosen from the University Senate.

In the annual spring elections the number of student S-FC members is controlled by the total amount of students voting. For each 100 student's voting one S-FC member is elected.

Several of the important functions of this group include appointment of the student members of the men's and women's disciplinary boards, apportionment of the Student activity fee and publication of the M-Book.

Disciplinary Boards

One division of Miami's student-faculty government is composed of the two disciplinary boards, one for men and one for women. These disciplinary boards are committees of the University senate.

Because these boards are given the power to judge misdemeanors committed by students, we hope that you will have little occasion to deal with them. A student who is a violator of regulations such as the car rule, drunkenness, cheating or gambling may be brought before these boards.

Members Listed

Each board consists of nine members—five faculty representatives and four students. Every year the Student-Faculty council appoints two juniors for two-year terms, thus providing places for two seniors and two juniors.

It is usual for each of the two boards to meet separately, but if a case involves both a man student and a woman student, a joint meeting may be called.

Traffic Court is Subsidiary

The Traffic court is a subsidiary of the Disciplinary board made up of the student representatives of the Men's Disciplinary board. This court hears all cases concerning violations of the car rule.

The disciplinary boards hear all cases presented to them directly and also act on disciplinary matters referred to them by lower authorities, such as house councils in women's dormitories and dormitory senates in men's residences.

Greek Councils

Two prominent groups on Miami's campus are the Panhellenic and the Interfraternity councils. They operate both separately and also as one group.

One of the purposes of the Panhellenic council is to promote better relationships between the sororities and the University. It supervises rushing and helps to develop a closer relationship between the sororities. For the pledges there is a junior Panhellenic council in which each pledge class has its own representatives.

Represents All Fraternities

The Interfraternity council is run much the same as the Panhellenic council. It strives to see that the fraternities are run in a manner satisfactory to the University and in times of disagreement this one body represents all fraternities.

Activities Aid Cooperation

These two bodies help sponsor several outstanding activities during the year. Each fall there is the annual fraternity "Tug-of-War." At homecoming the sororities put in much time and effort in order to develop many unique floats for the Homecoming parade. One of the first spring events is the ODK carnival where the cooperation of fraternities and sororities is typified. One fraternity and one sorority go together to make each booth.

Much inter-Greek understanding has been accomplished with the function of these two important groups.

Greek Men

Are you interested in Greek life at Miami? Since fraternities practice deferred rushing, you are given the opportunity to make friends and learn which fraternities comply with your standards during the first semester.

What Comes First

Now let's move the calendar up a few months. Second semester has just begun. You have indicated by registering with your head resident that you will be rushing. During the first two week-ends you will be dashing from one fraternity house to another. Most houses are located on or near the campus on "Fraternity Row." In order that you may learn something about each organization before making a choice, you will try to visit as many of the eighteen as you can.

Next, Formal Rush Parties

After the second week, special invitations are sent for the third week rush parties. There are certain rules which you must abide by before and during rushing. A pamphlet containing these rules and the rushing procedure is put out by Interfraternity council and will be given to all freshman men preceding the rushing season.

At formal pledging you will receive the coveted pledge pin. If satisfactory grades are maintained you are initiated early in the fall term of your sophomore year. Pledge duty and parties soon follow.

Social Calendar

Each fraternity has many informal parties throughout the year. Weekend open houses are held during the year for you and your guests. Many fraternities have both a winter and a spring formal.

Throughout the year the fraternities sponsor various entertainment for the campus. The annual Tug-of-War is held in the fall. A watermelon-eating contest is one of the Freshmen Week events. A fraternity barber shop quartet contest and pep rallies are only a few of the many activities enjoyed by all of the students.

Special Events

The fraternities also entertain the mothers during one of the most festive of all weekends of the social calendar—Mother's Day.

Greek week is another highlight of the year. This is held in the spring with the aid of the sororities. Its purpose is to build a stronger brotherhood within the Greek system. To top off this week's activities is the ever-popular Interfraternity ball.

The eighteen fraternities on the Miami campus are:

Acacia	Phi Kappa Tau
Alpha Delta Phi	Pi Kappa Alpha
Beta Theta Pi	Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Delta Kappa Epsilon	Sigma Chi
Delta Chi	Sigma Nu
Delta Tau Delta	Sigma Phi Epsilon
Delta Upsilon	Sigma Tau Alpha
Lambda Chi Alpha	Theta Chi
Phi Delta Theta	Zeta Beta Tau

Greek Women

Amid the whirlwind Freshman Week, sorority rushing will commence with a meeting in Benton hall. At this meeting, information will be given on the procedures to be followed during the course of rushing.

The Big Rush

Formal rushing involves several weeks during opportunity to become acquainted. It is during this period that you are given the chance to decide on the sorority that best fits the ideas and ideals which time you and the sorority members have in mind with which you wish to be affiliated. If, at this time, you have no definite impressions of any one group, it is possible to wait and join later.

Less than half of the incoming freshmen pledge, not only because of the limit set on membership, but also because many find satisfaction for social life in other organizations.

Social Whirl

Since there are no sorority houses on campus, each group has a suite in a residence hall for the meetings and activities. The members of each sorority decorate their suite to the group's taste, and they have access to it much like one has to her home. Sometimes a pledge will be seen applying a steady arm to the painting of a table or the polishing of objects in the room. Saturdays are cleaning days and pledges will be found wielding a dust cloth, washing dishes, or vacuuming the rugs. Most suites have adjoining kitchens, which prove extremely useful for making coffee on Saturday mornings and snacks during the week.

To Be a Greek!

Being social organizations, sororities naturally have a full schedule of events each year. The first big activity following rushing is that of Homecoming. At this time, the sororities combine in groups of two or more and construct a float made of crepe paper, chicken wire and hard work. The day of the Homecoming game the floats are paraded and judged, and the winning group receives a trophy.

As the months roll by, various affairs are checked off the calendar. The majority of the sororities celebrate their day of founding with an elaborate banquet or celebration. With the Thanksgiving month comes the time for the annual Panhellenic formal for all Greek-affiliates and their dates. Around the Yuletide season most sororities sponsor formal dances in addition to parties and festivities.

Even into spring the momentum of activities does not cease, as the date book shows plans for picnics, boat rides on the Ohio river and the annual Mother's day celebration. Besides the planned occa-

Booklet Sent

Before arriving on Miami's campus, every incoming freshman woman will receive a booklet from the Panhellenic council which explains the particulars to be followed during rushing. Read it carefully to acquaint yourself with the rushing rules, so that you will be prepared to meet sorority rushing with intelligence and confidence.

If you do not receive a booklet, you may secure one from the Dean of Women in Benton hall.

Independents Only

Any unaffiliated student of Miami is welcome to join the Association of Miami Independents.

There is an open house held each fall for all those who are interested. By attending you can become acquainted with the members and can register for membership. The only requirement is that one may not be a member of any sorority or fraternity.

Many opportunities are offered by the group. They hold meetings, both business and social, and also sponsor several dances and other activities throughout the year.

AMI provides organized activity for many since only about 40 percent of Miami's students "go Greek."

Scholarship Honoraries

Phi Eta Sigma

Men who are entering the University as freshmen this year have the chance to become members of Phi Eta Sigma, national honor society, open only to freshman men. At the end of the first semester those who receive an average of 3.5 or above and at the end of the second semester those who have a cumulative average of 3.5 or above may be elected to become members of this honorary society. At mid-semester those who have attained a 3.0 average are invited to attend a smoker where they learn about the organization. In this way there still remains one-half a semester to strive to raise or to maintain the average necessary for membership.

Beta Gamma Sigma

The national honor society, Beta Gamma Sigma, honors prominent students in the School of Business. This organization does not open its membership to freshmen or sophomores. The membership is elected from those juniors having accumulated a 3.75 average and to the seniors having a 3.5 average. If you are in the School of Business it would be a good idea to keep this group in your long-range sight during your first two years at the University.

Phi Beta Kappa

Although the honor of owning a Phi Beta Kappa key never comes to a freshman, it is something for you to strive for. Good grades are not the only prerequisite—the prospective member must have extra-curricular activities also. In five semesters juniors must have the accumulated average of 3.75. Seniors, in seven semesters must have a 3.5 average. The membership to this highly honored society is quite a goal for the under-classman to set up for himself.

Leadership Honoraries

Cwen

Freshmen women who, in their first year of college life, show themselves to be outstanding in scholarship, leadership, personality, activities and service to the University, are accorded the privilege of wearing the crown and sceptre of Cwen, national sophomore women's recognition society.

For Their Honor

Informal teas honoring all freshman women with an average of 3.0 or above are held each year at the beginning of the second semester. Freshmen are tapped for membership in Cwen at the May Day ceremonies which honor outstanding women on campus. Members wear the Cwen crown and sceptre pin during their sophomore year.

Services rendered to the University by Cwen include giving a tuition scholarship to an outstanding freshman woman to be used during her sophomore year, sponsoring a leadership training course for counselors and selling corsages at Homecoming.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Junior and senior men, outstanding for character, leadership, scholarship and service in campus life, are tapped annually at the Sophomore Hop and the Senior ball for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership society.

At this time they are presented with a white "bib" to wear for three days. After initiation they receive a circle-shaped recognition key.

Service Their Watchword

ODK traditionally takes an active part in graduation and Homecoming celebrations, and sponsors a carnival each spring, the proceeds of which are donated to the Student Union fund.

Mortar Board

Tapping of junior women who have excelled in leadership, scholarship and activities for membership in Mortar Board, senior women's leadership honor society, is one of the highlights of the annual May Day ceremonies.

Members of this organization wear a black and gold recognition pin during their senior year.

Pleiades Chapter Here

The Pleiades chapter of Mortar Board was established at Miami in 1922. Members have been active in University functions, including ushering at commencement exercises and acting as guides on campus for various functions.

Mortar Board also sponsors a Marriage Lecture series for upperclassmen and engaged couples and assists ODK with Homecoming activities and other campus-wide affairs.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, is the largest Greek letter organization in the world and invites to membership all students who wish to render service and who are former members of the Boy Scouts of America.

The purpose of Alpha Phi Omega, which has a membership of 60 pledges and actives here at Miami, is to render service to the campus, the community, the nation and fellow members.

Helps Campus

APHO serves the campus in many ways, which include an annual spring "keep off the grass" signs campaign, furnishing cans for cigarettes at entrances of campus buildings and transportation of students' luggage to the train station at vacation time.

An Ugly Man contest and the annual campus-wide Christmas carol sing are also sponsored by APHO. In addition to these services, APHO gives assistance to other campus organizations.

Seems that the ODK men have to wear the traditional "bibs" for three days . . .

A P h i O sponsors an Ugly Man. This monster won.

Vet Village

One of the most interesting residential districts on the Miami campus is Veterans' village, a thriving village-within-a-village of about 450 people, with an annually elected mayor and village council.

Two Families Share a Unit

Two families share a prefabricated unit, although a whole unit may be rented if desired. Each half-unit is furnished by the University with a sofa-bed, table, two chairs, oil stove and heater and an ice-box.

All the Extras Free

Washing and drying facilities are provided and the University also provides for all necessary maintenance; for example, light bulbs, fuses, paint, etc.

Married students cannot live in University residence halls, but they are not required to live in Vetville. Some couples prefer Oxford apartments.

Don't Do It!

Miami students who wish to marry during the school year and return to school must record their marriage in advance with the Dean of Women or the Director of Men's Affairs. Written approval must be obtained from the parent of students under twenty-one years of age, as well as evidence that housing arrangements have been made.

No More GI Bill

Veterans of World War II who were discharged before November, 1947, are no longer able to start school under the GI Bill, as of July 25, 1951; veterans discharged after this date who seek scholarship information should consult their local Veterans Administration office.

But, There's Still Hope

Bills are now pending in the Legislature to set up a scholarship program for Korean veterans, but the plan is still vague. Additional information can be gained by writing to Eugene M. Albaugh at room 15 Faculty Office building.

Foreign Students

One of your most pleasant educational experiences this year will be making new friends from many new localities. Miami's foreign students certainly provide you with this opportunity.

40 Are Enrolled

Last year there were forty men and women representing eleven nationalities enrolled at Miami. Their homes included Hawaii, Israel, Korea, Greece, Japan, Brazil, Germany and Sweden. It is estimated that this year the number of foreign students will be even greater.

Two Clubs Organized

To help promote and strengthen international relations on the campus, two groups have been organized. The Campus committee on Foreign students sponsors many of these students financially. The Cosmopolitan club meets regularly to better acquaint the foreign and American students with each other.

But the individual student can do the biggest part in making foreign students feel as though they are not at all foreign to our campus.

Get Acquainted

If you are lucky enough to have one of these students living next door to you, you will have no trouble getting acquainted. Before you know it, you will have a friend with whom you can exchange information about school, food, or dating customs in your ocean-apart homes, in addition to customs in your ocean-apart homes. Your classes, activities and social events will give you other opportunities to meet these students.

Help Them Feel at Home

Be sure that you don't pass up this chance to help yourself and a person who needs to feel at home. You will then be helping the University in its effort to be a part of those strengthening international friendship.

Mid-American Conference

As one of the most up and coming athletic conferences in the country, the Mid-American conference was organized in 1946 with Cincinnati, Butler, Wayne, Ohio university and Western Reserve as the original members. Miami and Western Michigan became new members in 1947 when Wayne severed its connections with the loop. Toledo became a member in the spring of 1950 and Kent State was admitted in the winter of 1950 to replace Butler.

Dr. David E. Reese has been the conference commissioner from the start. A former all-round athlete and a top-flight official for many years, Dr. Reese has guided the Mid-American wisely and has been a devoted leader.

The conference championships to date have been:

Football—1947, Cincinnati; 1948, MIAMI; 1949, Cincinnati; 1950, MIAMI; 1951, Cincinnati.

Cross-Country—1947, MIAMI; 1948, Western Michigan; 1949, MIAMI; 1950, MIAMI; 1951, MIAMI.

Basketball—1947-48, Butler and Cincinnati tied; 1948-49 Cincinnati; 1949-50, Cincinnati; 1950-51, Cincinnati; 1951-52 MIAMI and Western Michigan tied.

Tennis—1948, Cincinnati; 1949, Western Michigan; 1950, Western Michigan; 1951, Cincinnati; 1952, _____

Golf—1948, MIAMI; 1949, Western Michigan; 1950, MIAMI; 1951, Ohio university; 1952, _____

Baseball—1948, Ohio University; 1949, Western Michigan; 1950, Western Michigan; 1951, Western Michigan; 1952, _____

Wrestling—1952, Toledo.

Football

Miami's football prospects for the fall of 1952 look much more promising than they did a year ago at this time. This fall's campaign will mark Ara Parseghian's second year as head football coach here at Miami. This should give the men a better opportunity of knowing Ara's system and methods than they had at this time last year.

While the Tribe lost several top "name" players in John Pont, Don Green, Jay Fry, Dale Doland and Joe Codiana, they have a large number of last year's junior varsity players moving up to bolster the returning lettermen.

Miami, who started intercollegiate football in 1888, won seven and lost but three during the 1951 season. Their conference record of three wins in four games was good enough to give them the runner-up spot in the Mid-American conference.

This year's squad, according to Coach Parseghian, will be facing an extremely tough team when they tangle once again with the Marquette Hilltoppers. Last year the Tribe was tripped up by the men from the North in a 27-7 battle. It's a cinch that this year's game will come close to being the best game of the season.

The annual Miami-Cincinnati game, which last season saw the Bearcats get away fast in the first half and then hang on to edge the Redskins by a 19-14 score, has been scheduled for Thanksgiving Day in Cincinnati. Always our traditional rivals, Cincy and Miami have traded football crowns since the beginning of the Mid-American conference. Cincinnati has won three titles and the Tribe has won two.

Last spring the footballers held a 20-day practice session which was climaxed by an intra-squad game. From observations made from last year's team and spring training it looks like Tom Pagna and John Zachary will do a lot of pigskin hauling for Miami. Pagna is a hard-driving fullback and Zachary is an exceptionally fast and deceptive broken field runner.

In Paul Sautter, who has completed 70 extra points in 94 tries thus far in his two years of varsity play, the Redskins have one of the best extra point kickers in the country. Jim Root handles the team on the field. Root has quarterbacked the squad for the past two seasons and is an excellent passer.

1952 Football Schedule

October 18—at Wichita

*October 25—at Ohio University

November 1—Toledo

November 8—at Marquette

November 15—Dayton

*Mid-American Conference games

Coach Parseghian figures that the last three games on the schedule will either make or break the team. He also regards Wichita as a vastly improved ball club over the past teams from the heart of the corn belt that have never defeated Miami. Parseghian naturally figures on tough battles from Xavier and Ohio university while the other games should provide the Tribe with a few breathers in their schedule.

Basketball

Miami's 1951-52 basketball team enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in the University's history, annexing 19 victories while losing only six contests.

Coach Bill Rohr, in his first season at Miami, built a team which received national recognition. The former Portsmouth high school hardwood mentor was chosen "Ohio's Coach of the Year."

The Redskins finished the season in a tie with Western Michigan College's Broncos for first place honors in the rugged Mid-American conference. Each team grabbed 12 wins against three defeats.

After the end of the regular season, Miami turned down an invitation to compete in the NAIB four-team state playoff. The Tribe also turned down a strong "feeler" from officials of the National Invitational tournament held at Madison Square garden in New York.

Outstanding among Miami's 19 victories was the hard-fought 61-60 upset win over the powerful University of Dayton Flyers at Withrow Court.

The Tribe defense held Dayton's All-American pivot man Don "Monk" Meineke to 13 markers, representing one of the few times during the past season when the towering center was held to less than 15 points.

Dick Walls, 6-8 Miami center, and guard Don Knodel were chosen to the All-Mid-American conference first team, while guard Bob King won honorable mention. Walls and Knodel also received All-Ohio recognition.

The Tribe cagers smashed the Withrow Court scoring record, as they rolled up 95 points to defeat the league co-champions, Western Michigan. Walls' 38 points in the Cincinnati contest marked the highest individual point production of the season.

In individual scoring, Walls led the Red and White hardwooders with 373 points, averaging 14.9 points per game. Knodel poured in 324 markers to take second place honors. Other leading scorers were Bob King with 203, Ed Gunderson with 191, Dick Klitch with 143, Tom Bryant with 132, Captain Bernie Griesinger with 131, Bob Doll, who competed only during the first semester, with 129, and Bert Barney with 118.

King led the team in assists, recording 100. Knodel was second in this department with 71. Walls with 333 rebounds led the Rohrmen under the backboards.

Next year's squad promises to be an even stronger ensemble, since the Redskins lose no one through graduation.

Track

Miami cindermen enjoyed one of their finest seasons in the history of the school during the past year, as they romped through an impressive schedule in fine style. Their excellent showing points to a host of individual performers plus strong reserve strength.

Miami's thinclads had a superb record in dual meets, as they swept through their season undefeated. Last year saw three upsets over Pittsburgh 65½-56¾, Ohio State 81½-45½, and Michigan Normal 66-57. As the Tribe prepares for their 1953 schedule, they boast a record of thirteen consecutive dual wins without a defeat. This outstanding feat extends over a span of two and a half years. Also last year, Miami walked off with their fifth straight Mid-American conference track championship.

The outlook for the 1953 campaign is good. Although the Redskins lost their stellar distance man,

Cash Powell, due to graduation, they have a fine replacement in Joe Vargo, who has been improving rapidly and should be able to carry Miami to their share of firsts in the instances as his predecessor did.

The dashes should be a bright spot for Miami as they have the brilliant Jim Bailey returning for his last year. Bailey has been a constant winner for the Redskins and shows no signs of losing his mastery for winning.

Dan Drake, the Tribe's shot-put specialist, will be counted on to capture first in this event. Drake set a Miami field record the past year as he put the shot 50 feet 4¼ inches.

The broad jump and high jump will be in the capable hands of Dick Frische, who will be looking forward to a great year.

One of the Redskins brightest triumphs during the past season was their overwhelming victory over Ohio U. When the final score was recorded, Miami was on the long end of 115-12 score.

In Coach George Rider Miami has one of the top track men in the nation. Rider has a great ability in developing mediocre men into Miami stars. It is a cinch that the Tribe will be a heavy favorite in a majority of their meets next spring and we'll be looking for them to bring Miami her sixth straight MAC Track championship in May.

Cross-Country

As one of the top cross-country teams in the nation the 1952 edition of the Miami long distance runners find themselves in the position of defending the Mid-American conference championship and a very creditable 9th place team showing in the NCAA meet last fall.

Coach George L. Rider will have six lettermen returning to the forthcoming campaign which will consist of a series of dual meets leading up to the conference title meet in November.

Last year the Redskins finished ninth in team scoring in the NCAA cross-country meet in East Lansing, Michigan. Slender Cash Powell finished tenth in the nation only 37 seconds off the trail of the winner. Jack Heineman, our number one man for this year, was just ten seconds behind Powell. At this meet, Miami's Mid-American conference champions topped such cross-country conscious schools as Pittsburgh, Michigan and Notre Dame.

The most serious problem facing coach Rider this season will be the replacing of Cash Powell, who graduated last June. Powell, who ran brilliantly for the Tribe throughout his college career, holds the course record here at Miami as well as at many other opponent's tracks.

Last year four freshmen ran with the varsity. However, the new MAC ruling for this year does not permit freshmen to participate on the varsity. There will be a reserve team for the freshmen.

1952 Cross-Country Schedule

October 4—Ball State

October 11—at Indiana

October 18—Butler and Western Michigan at Kalamazoo

October 25—at Ohio university

November 1—Michigan Normal and Indiana

November 8—Mid-American conference championship Meet at Cincinnati.

November 25—NCAA at East Lansing, Michigan

Baseball

With sixteen lettermen returning from last year's team the Redskin baseball nine is looking forward to an even more successful season in 1953 than in the past season.

Although Miami's baseball team did not enjoy a quite so successful season as they have over the past two years, they did finish the spring with 13 wins as against 10 defeats and finished third in the Mid-American conference with a 6-3 record.

It was the third season as head baseball coach for Woody Wills, and in this time he has compiled a very respectable won-lost record of 45-24. In the two preceding seasons the Redskins notched identical 15-7 records and were runners up to Western Michigan in the Mid-American conference last year.

Tribe Wins Four

In addition to the nine conference games this past season the Tribe won four of six games on a spring trip usually scheduled during the spring vacation for the purpose of practicing before opening the conference season. Such teams as Tennessee Tech, Fort Knox, Maryville and Vanderbilt were scheduled on this Southern trip.

Coach Woody Wills lost four lettermen through graduation this year. Among them was Jim Wilkinson, All-Conference catcher for the past three seasons and the team's leading slugger during both the 1950 and 1951 seasons with averages of .341 and .357 respectively. In his last season Wilkinson was hampered somewhat by injuries but still managed to hit .320, fourth best on the team. Wills, however, has two capable catchers who he hopes can fill the past in Jim Hause, second team catcher who batted at a .353 clip filling in for the injured Wilkinson, and Don Puls, the junior varsity catcher.

Looses Cozza

Another big loss through graduation was Carmen Cozza, one of the Tribe's leading pitchers as well as hitters. During the 1951 season Cozza scored the first collegiate no-hitter of the season in a game against Marshall. Last season Cozza lost a couple of heartbreakers but still managed to win three of seven decisions on the mound. Cozza, however, fared better when at the plate, leading the team in batting with a .426 average. He also led the pitchers in strike-outs with a total of 52 in the 57 innings he worked.

The two others lost through graduation were Jim May, the left fielder, who was third in team batting with a .328 average, and pitcher Ted Reynolds. Reynolds was one of the starting pitchers and finished with a 1-1 record.

Redskins Have Five Pitchers Left

The Redskins, even with this loss of two pitchers, still have five good pitchers, three of which are only sophomores and very promising. The sophomore letter-winners are Jim Hampton, a left-hander who won three and lost two last season, Bob Tingle another southpaw who posted two wins and no losses, and Lester Lincke, a righthander who had a 1-0 record.

In addition to these sophomores Wills has two other experienced lettermen in Larry Dasch and Charles Duquette. Dasch pitched steadily and turned in some excellent relief work in posting his 3-2 season record. Duquette, who was bothered by a sore arm all season and pitched in only one game, is expected to pick up where he left off two seasons ago.

In the infield Wills will have last year's first string and several capable substitutes back. In the first base position both Ed Mitroff and Emerson Brown can fill the post. Mitroff was the regular last season and is a long ball hitter. Don Knodel, an All-Conference guard in basketball, who played second when Jim Lyons was moved to third base in the middle of the season will be back with his good fielding and hard hitting. Don Daly, the regular short stop, and Ron Tappan a promising sophomore will make the short stop position solid. At third two lettermen Jim Lyons and Don Pobst are candidates to fill the hot corner post.

Two Outfielders

In the outfield the Redskins will have two experienced fielders in Dick Stegeman and Dick West, both lettermen last season, returning and the other spot left by Jim May will have to be filled.

Although the schedule for 1953 is not available now it is known that there will be a 25 game schedule. The number of games scheduled can not exceed 25 games according to a new Mid-American conference regulation. Probably at least seven of these games will comprise the spring Southern trip. Another dozen or so games will be conference opponents with the remaining being made up of Big Ten schools and other seasonal opponents such as Xavier, Dayton, DePauw and Ball State.

As always Miami expects to be a big contender in the conference along with the other strong baseball schools such as Western Michigan, the champion for the last two years and Ohio university. Western Michigan has been acclaimed the best college baseball school in the country and always has a good team.

Swimming

Coach Raymond Ray is on the look out for men with swimming talent to augment Miami's swimming team which will be holding its meets in the new natatorium completed this summer. This will be the first year that there has been conference competition in swimming and Miami will be in there splashing for the Mid-American trophy. Ohio university and Kent State already have well-established teams. Other teams on this year's inter-collegiate schedule will include Case, Western Reserve, Cincinnati and Penn college. Eight dual meets have already been scheduled.

During the past year, some of swimming team members have been working out in the Hamilton YMCA pool. Seniors Harry Voigt and Frank Springman showed promise in the breast and free style events while Bill Lewis has looked good in diving. Vic Resch and Ed Russell worked out well in the small Hamilton pool and are expected to do well in inter-collegiate competition this year. For the most part, the swimming team has good starters in a major portion of the events. However, depth and experience will be the biggest problem facing Coach Ray this winter.

Ray, who has been coaching college swimming teams for 14 years, feels that Miami's aquamen should be able to hold their own in dual meets. It's too early to predict a championship team but Ray expects Miami to make a big splash in the new pool.

Wrestling

Still in their first few seasons after a lapse of over 25 years, the Redskin grapplers closed their three win-three loss record last winter with a fourth place in the MAC tournament held at Kent State.

Led by freshman Jack Nelson, who topped the team in scoring with 26 markers, the matmen defeated Earlham college of Indiana, Bowling Green, and Findlay. Coach Jay Colville's men dropped matches to Ohio university, by a scant two points, and to powerful Kent State and Toledo. In the Mid-American conference tournament, the grapplers finished behind the Toledo Rockets, Kent State and Ohio university as they beat out Western Reserve and Cincinnati. Nelson, at 157 pounds, was the top Redskin in the tournament as he placed second in his weight division.

Six of the eight first string men will be returning this year so the Tribe is looking forward to a successful season. Heavyweight Dick Brunneman entered the lineup late in the season and showed great promise. With the Redskins behind by two points in the meet with Bowling Green Brunneman, wrestling the first match of his career, pinned an experienced Falcon opponent to win the match. Brunneman went on to score another pin the next day at Findlay.

Jack Nelson showed great promise as one of the top 157 pounders in the midwest as he racked up five pins in his six matches. Bob Nellis, a transfer student from Cornell, should give next year's squad even greater power. As the state 130 pound wrestling champ of Illinois, Nellis reached the semi-finals in the Olympic try-outs at Cornell university.

Wrestling has acquired a great interest here during the short time since it was instituted as an intercollegiate sport. The number of returning lettermen promise an even more successful season this year.

Tennis

Completing the most successful season in Miami history, Coach Al Moore's Redskin tennis team compiled an enviable 8-2 season record.

Highlighting the season's play was the Tribe's

6-3 victory over Ohio State and three shutout wins over Xavier, Marshall and Wilmington.

The two setbacks suffered during the season were an opening 6-3 loss to Indiana and a slim 5-4 defeat by a strong Cincinnati squad. The remaining dual meets saw the Tribe racketmen handing 8-1 defeats to Ohio U, DePauw and Toledo and edging Dayton 5-4.

In the MAC tournament, the Tribe netters captured fourth place against tough competition.

The Redskin courtmen are looking forward to even more success during the 1953 season. Coach Moore will not lose any of his regulars through graduation and has a strong group of junior varsity men coming up. Back to pace the squad next year will be freshman Dick Klitch, the Tribe number one man, who won nine out of ten singles matches this season.

During the fall Coach Moore teaches classes for beginners in tennis and conducts tournaments to pick promising men for the varsity and freshman net squads.

Golf

Under the guidance of coach Bill Rohr, Miami's golf team finished the 1952 season with a dual meet record of 2-1-5. The team this year met with such opponents as Western Michigan, Xavier, Louisville, Dayton, Ohio university and Wright-Patterson Air Force base.

In the All-Ohio Intercollegiate tournament, the linksmen placed fifth and in the Mid-American conference meet at Kent State, they tied for third place.

Each spring an invitation is extended to all men who are interested in golf to come out for the squad. All those who come out for the team play 72 holes and the lowest six men are picked to play for Miami. The team plays its home matches at the Oxford Country club.

The 1953 season promises to be a much better one as only two men will be lost through graduation. Those who will be returning are Jim Richardson, Dale Hines, Marshall Clark and Heinie Jung.

Tribe Miami

Tribe Miami is a group composed of the men that have earned a letter here at Miami in some athletic endeavor. This organization is the varsity club at Miami and they hold two elections each year to initiate the most recent letter winners. President of the Tribe for this year is Jack Heine-mann of local track fame.

These Redskin lettermen take charge of the programs for the various athletic events as well as the selling of refreshments during the spring sports season.

A Miami coed is chosen each year by these Redskins to be their sponsor. She then becomes the only girl allowed to wear the Miami varsity letter. This year the sponsor is Lois Taylor.

Miami Coaches

Miami's top-notch coaching staff polished off the 1951-52 sports schedule with a very creditable record. The high light of the season was the 19 and 6 record made by the basketball team which was coached by WILLIAM D. ROHR. In his first year at Oxford, Rohr brought the Mid-American conference basketball championship to Miami for the first time. Rohr came to Miami from Portsmouth high school where he finished the 1950-51 season with an 18 and 4 record. The 33 year old coach should repeat his great performance in his sophomore year here as chief of the Redskin hard-wooders. Rohr also serves Miami as golf coach in the spring.

Another outstanding first year man was ARA PARSEGHIAN. Parseghian, a Miami alum, lettered in three sports during his college days before leaving to play halfback with the powerful Cleveland Browns. He returned to Miami's gridiron as freshman coach two years ago. In this capacity he produced an undefeated team. From there he stepped into the top spot that had been vacated by Woody Hayes.

GEORGE L. RIDER, nationally known for his track and cross country teams, has been with the Miami coaching staff since 1917. Coach Rider's ability to handle trackmen is shown in his impressive record. Since the forming of the Mid-American conference, his cindermen and harriers have won all but one conference championship and last year was no exception from the rule.

Co-ordinating all intercollegiate athletics is JOHN L. BRICKELS, who came to Miami as head basketball coach and football backfield coach. Brickels, who served under the wizzard coach Paul Brown with the professional Cleveland Browns for many seasons, was formerly the basketball coach at West Virginia.

Up until a year ago, he held down three positions on Miami's coaching staff: basketball coach, backfield coach and director of intercollegiate athletics.

RAYMOND RAY, chief of the Tribe swimmers, will be bringing the first Miami swimming team to the recently completed natatorium. Formerly the swimming team worked out in the YMCA pool in Hamilton.

Head of the physical education department, JIM GORDON, was an outstanding track man in his student days on Miami's campus. In 1932 he was a member of the United States olympic squad. Under Gordon's direction, the physical education department was revised and reorganized last year in order to provide a more varied and complete physical education program for Miami's men.

WOODY WILLS has been the Redskin baseball coach for the past three seasons. Wills also holds down the position of defensive backfield coach under Parseghian in the fall.

WARREN SCHMAKEL, former head football coach at Michigan Central, will hold forth in his second season as Ara's line coach.

AL MOORE is Miami's tennis coach. He was a Miami tennis star in his earlier days and is currently a pro at Middletown. Wrestling is under the direction of JAY COLVILLE who is also the trainer for Miami athletics. The well rounded intra-mural athletic program which is open to all men is under the direction of THOMAS P. VAN VOORHIS.

Women's Sports

Through the cooperative program of the women's physical education department and the Women's Athletic association a yearly program of women's sports is maintained.

The major fall activity is hockey. Early sessions are used for practice of skills. When teams are formed, a tournament is held and there is strong competition for the championship. Hockey is one of the sports which has a varsity team for intercollegiate play. This year the team met teams from the University of Dayton, Wittenberg college, Western college and the University of Cincinnati.

Archery, Tennis Reserve Teams

Archery, tennis and golf reserve two seasons each year. As long as the weather is good in the fall there is activity on the archery field and tennis courts. Golfers have access to several golf courses in Oxford, as well as to a practice field. Good weather in the spring brings all of these same opportunities to enthusiasts for any particular field. Tournaments are played in all three sports. Each one also has a varsity team for intercollegiate competition.

In the spring tennis branches off from the regularly scheduled tournament for women to one for mixed teams.

Horseback Riding Offered

To complete the field for the two season sports there is horseback riding. An extra fee is charged for riding, but the training and fun are well worth it.

Winter sports were given a new slant this year with the introduction of a co-recreation volleyball program. The 20 teams competing represent 40 campus groups. Here is how it worked: any team of eight, women or men made up from the sororities, fraternities and independent groups, was entered. By drawing numbers "out of a hat" the groups were matched to form teams.

The overwhelming success of the program has probably meant most to Blanche Roeder who served as chairman of the program.

Basketball Competition Keen

Another activity for winter is basketball. Competition is open to all women. The basketball varsity team has traveled all over the state to meet other college teams this year.

Other popular winter sports are fencing and table tennis. Volleyball for women's teams is also offered.

Orchesis, the national dance group is a very dominant part of the program. You will become familiar first with the Junior orchesis which is a pre-requisite to Senior orchesis. After one year of practice and a semester apprenticeship, girls are elected into the group. This group gives an annual recital in the spring which is open to the public.

Swimming Classes Will Open

Almost as a welcome to the new freshman class is the announcement of the completion of the University swimming pool. It will be open two days a week for men's classes and two for women's classes. The other days will be scheduled for open swimming.

To round out the program there are such features as classes in first aid and the Hobby shop which is open to any one on campus who is really interested in crafts.

WAA Offers Varied Activities

The Women's Athletic association sponsors many annual affairs such as the "Freshman party" and the Sports night. In January an All-Association banquet is held in order that the awards for service and participation can be made.

One of the thrills of your early college life will be a trip to the WAA cabin which is located several miles outside of Oxford. The Freshman party is held at the cabin so don't miss it! Situated in a woods, the cabin is as picturesque as it is practical. The WAA purchased the cabin with its own funds.

Intramural Sports

For those students that are unable to participate in the tremendous varsity sports program that is offered here at Miami the intramural program offers many opportunities. Under the guidance of Prof. Thomas P. Van Voorhis, Miami's intramurals give everyone who has the slightest desire to participate a chance to enjoy practically every sport. With the physical education majors assisting the intramural program offers a full year schedule of organized athletics for everyone.

Anyone can get a team together for the various basketball, baseball and pit volleyball leagues. Each year teams are entered from the various residence halls, fraternities and any other interested groups. Separate leagues are formed and championship play-off is held for each sport with scrolls of merit going to each member of the winning team. There is also individual competition in ping-pong, handball, golf and tennis.

The facilities of Withrow Court and the athletic fields are made available for these intramural sports. This year will probably see some sort of an intramural program along the swimming line so everyone will have an opportunity to meet competition in Miami's new natatorium. Officials for the various events are furnished by the athletic department.

Professor Van Voorhis urges you all to join in and take advantage of Miami's intramural sports program.

Alma Mater

I

Old Miami, from thy hillcrest
Thou hast watched the decades roll,
While thy sons have quested from thee
Sturdy-hearted, pure of soul.

Chorus

Old Miami! New Miami!
Days of old and days to be
Weave the story of thy glory
Our Miami, here's to thee!

II

Thou shalt stand a constant beacon
Crimson Towers against the sky:
Men shall ever seek thy guiding,
Power like thine shall never die.

Words, Pres. A. H. Upham

Music, R. H. Burke

Marching Song

Miami old, to thee our love we bring,
To thee our hearts and minds will ever cling,
Thy fame of other days, thy gifts so free
Call us today to sing our praise to thee.

Chorus

Love and honor to Miami,
Our college old and grand,
Proudly we shall ever hail thee
Over all the land;
Alma Mater now we praise thee,
Sing joyfully this lay,
Love and honor to Miami
Forever and a day.

Words and music by R. H. Burke
